Answer To Taxpayer Suit Authorized

Facts In School Petition True In the Opinion of City Board

The Washington C. H. Board of Education agreed that the facts set forth in a suit brought in Probate Court here May 4 by 11 taxpayers against the six district school boards that were in existence before the Paint, Jefferson and Bloomingburg districts were transferred to the Miami Trace District are true, and instructed its attorney, City Solicitor William Junk, to base its answer on the taxpayers' suit on that opinion.

The framework for the answer to the suit was outlined by the board at a special official meeting Wednesday night.

In a nutshell, the Washington C. H. board conceded that it had failed to send a delegate to a convention to form a Citizens Committee to represent the whole of Fayette County (including Washington C. H.) because no convention had been called.

The board also instructed its attorney to say in its answer that it joins in the request of the 11 taxpayers that a convention to form a citizens committee be called, and for "other relief" called for in the taxpayers' petition.

Answers to the taxpayers' suit must be filed by June 2, as things stand now.

The principal objective of the taxpayers' petition filed May 4 is the formation of a Citizens Committee representing all of Fayette County to study the county's overall school problem.

It was signed by Sam Martin.

Northern US Dons Overcoat

CHICAGO (AP)—It was overcast weather this morning in most of the northern sections of the country from the Midwest to New England.

Skies cleared and temperatures tumbled as cool air from Canada spread across the middle Mississippi Valley, the Ohio Valley, the Great Lakes region and into New England. Readings were as much as 25 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

Temperatures were in the 30s and 40s in most of the frosty belt and below freezing along the northern border. Low marks included 19 degrees in Pellston and Grand Marais, Mich.

Polio Total Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—New polio cases last week totaled only 85, slightly more than a third of the 245 in the corresponding week last year and the lowest number for the comparable week since 1951.

I've devoted quite a lot of space in this column over the years to the curious and oddments of nature that people tell me about—onions with faces on them, sweet potatoes shaped like turkeys, plaid beets. All sorts of things. In fact, I've had about everything in here except a 16-foot philodendron.

Which is a pretty hard way of leading up to the fact that now I have a 16-foot philodendron. Oddment lovers, read on.

George C. Writsel, who teaches at the Jeffersonville School, is the owner of the healthy young specimen. He has it at his home at 209 East Temple Street, up on the second-floor railing. Or at least it starts there—it ends, coiled up like a sleeping snake, down on the first floor.

He's had it for a little over two years, since it was knee high to a petunia, and swears that he's never "spiked" its regular plant food. But nevertheless, it keeps growing and growing and seems all but ready now for a pleasant little trip across the street or a curl around his house.

Measurement, as of today, is 16 feet, four inches.

George says he brought it up with him from his former home in West Virginia, two years ago. It was a little thing then, but it's been growing ever since.

Benson Studying Newest Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Benson today asked Agriculture Department lawyers for a detailed analysis of the new farm bill.

He asked for a legal outline of changes in the 1956 farm program which he would be required to make and changes which he would have discretionary power to make under the farm bill on which the House completed congressional action yesterday.

Department officials declined to predict whether President Eisenhower would sign the measure. But Benson's action was taken as a clear indication that the department expects the President to approve it. Elsewhere, Eisenhower's signature was taken for granted.

Questions which officials said the legislation raises include one as to whether the department is required to offer soil bank payments for the retirement of corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanut land already planted or intended for planting this crop year.

A major feature of the new bill is a soil bank program under which farmers would be offered up to $1.2 billion a year to retire crop land from production until present prices—depressing crop surpluses—are reduced.

FROM A practical standpoint, department officials said there appeared to be little use in offering soil bank payments for this year's crops because of the late-ness of the season. They expressed belief that most farmers would have already completed planting operations by the time the department could determine payment rates and issue regulations and instructions to field workers.

Meanwhile, the department's Agricultural Marketing Service reported that farm prices, a gener-

Big Welcome Ringing Out For 'Elijah'

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP)—A tumultuous welcome rang today in the shaggy ears of Elijah, the prodigal horse.

Those ears hardly twitched, however, as Elijah took his honors with composure.

A band blared, signs went up and a parade formed in this western Colorado community last night to celebrate Elijah's return from the 13,000-foot mountain ridge where he was trapped much of the winter.

"He didn't seem to give a damn about the whole thing," Gilbert Gregg, Buena Vista weekly newspaper publisher, said.

Elijah was due to take more bows at today's opening of quarter horse races at the Centennial Track south of Denver.

A haylift by light plane sustained Elijah (named after the biblical prophet fed by ravens) after his plight was discovered in February.

His owners, Al and Bill Turner, brought him down from his mountain fastness, at times shoveling through drifts 1 to 2 feet deep. He was whisked the last 11 miles in a horse trailer yesterday.

The Turners say Elijah once was Bugs, a pack horse wont to flee into the hills to escape automobiles and women in skirts. But his name will remain Elijah from here on.

Traffic Control Plan Set Up for West Court St.

Two Traffic Lights And 'Islands' To Be Put At Junction

After considerable study and discussion at an informal meeting of council following the regular session Wednesday night, approval was given to plans for installing traffic lights, several safety islands, marked channels for traffic, an overhead traffic sign and street widening to lessen hazards at the junction of West Court Street and Clinton, Leesburg and Highland Avenues.

As a result of the plans adopted, which included features submitted by Councilman Paul Van-'oorhis, former chairman of the Safety Service Committee, City Manager James F. Parkinson will proceed with the work of carrying out the plans.

Chief among the plans are two traffic lights, one on the north side of West Court Street, with green arrow showing constantly to permit free flow of west-bound traffic into Clinton Avenue, and a regular red, amber and green light to regulate west-bound traffic turning into Leesburg or Highland Avenues.

A traffic light at the south side of Clinton Avenue at the intersection, will regulate east-bound traffic from Clinton Avenue to Court Street.

The lights will be so arranged to care for traffic from and to Highland and Leesburg Avenues.

Some widening of three streets at and near the junction are designed to add materially to the workings of the new plan.

COURT STREET will be widened three feet on the north side for about 100 feet; Clinton Avenue will be widened two feet on the south side, and Highland Avenue will be widened 2½ feet on the west side and 1½ feet on the east side.

No left turn will be permitted from Highland Avenue into Clinton Avenue and no left turns will be permitted from Leesburg Avenue into Clinton Avenue. A left turn will be allowed from Highland into Leesburg Avenue, however.

The overhead signs, supported by standards at each side of the street, will be located on West Court Street 100 feet or more from the junction. Each lane is to be marked so the motorist can see what lane to take, to go straight ahead or turn into either Leesburg or Highland Avenues.

Included in the plans are alternate state routes designed to decrease traffic at the junction of the four thoroughfares and lessen dangers still more.

One route will be from West Court Street, south on Circle Avenue one block to East Street, and west on East Street to Highland Avenue. East Street block is to be regraded and improved.

The other alternate route is south on Oakland Avenue from Clinton Avenue to Leesburg Avenue and thence east to the intersection to be zoned.

Channels will be painted, with arrows indicating directions and the traffic "islands" will further guide traffic, under the plans being carried out.

Brown Endorsed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio House Republicans yesterday unanimously endorsed Rep. Clarence Brown for re-election to another four-year term as GOP national committee man from his state. He has served as national committeeman since 1944.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bergen Evans, the man who thinks up $64,000 questions, is "aghast at the burden parents bear to send their children through college."

At $2,000 a year, it now costs $16,000 to send two through college, Evans said last night. "That, I am sure, eats up more than the lifetime savings of the average parents."

Evans, Northwestern University professor of English, spoke at a banquet for delegates to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. He said:

But Man Not Seriously Hurt

MARION WALN, 53, city, escaped serious injury when the State Highway Department power mower he was operating was demolished by the northbound B&O passenger train on Route 238 just south of Bloomingburg Wednesday afternoon. The motor, torn from the chassis, is shown in the picture at extreme left. Waln was still on the mower seat when the train passed.

He narrowly escaped serious injury or death Wednesday at 3:30 P. M., when a power mowing machine he was operating on Route 238 just south of Bloomingburg, was struck by the east-bound B&O passenger train and almost demolished.

Waln, employee of the state Highway Department, escaped with a few scratches and bruises, but the power mower was torn up. The motor was knocked free of the remainder of the mower and hurled 20 feet when the engine struck it while traveling 40 to 50 miles an hour.

The left cylinder of the locomotive struck the motor of the mowing machine and knocked it out. The housing of the motor was even torn loose under Waln's feet.

Strangely enough Waln was still on the seat of the mower after it had been torn up and whirled completely around. He leaped from the mower after the train had passed, somewhat dazed but not badly hurt.

He was brought to Memorial

Double Life Ends For 'Sea Captain' And His 2 Wives

MATAWAN, N. J. (AP)—A double life has caught up with a 56-year-old former barge captain.

Lester Horton has been put in the county jail at Freehold, unable to post $10,000 bail, after police charged he maintained two wives 10 miles apart.

Horton avoided discovery by telling both wives he was a sea captain, according to police. It allowed him to stay a few days with each spouse and then join the other.

The double life came to light when a wife in Keansburg, Mrs. Genevieve Buijak Horton, reported him missing. Police who investigated say they found a second wife, the former Margaret Mulcahy, in Cliffwood.

Fatal Accident Brings Sentence

MARIETTA (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Leonard B. Ogle has sentenced William W. Riggs, 23, of Marietta, to four months in jail on a charge of second degree manslaughter. Riggs also was fined $200 and costs.

In a jury trial Monday, Riggs was found guilty of the traffic death of Miss Mary Margaret Winters Feb. 18.

Other major features of the bill would:

Liberalize credit terms for private housing for elderly persons, with FHA insurance up to 100 per cent of the loans, permission for cosigners on notes, and down payments as low as $200.

Provide 75,000 public housing rental units for the elderly over a five-year period, in addition to the regular units.

Raise the ceiling on FHA home improvement loans from $2,500 to $3,500 and extend the repayment

Temperature Dips

CLEVELAND (AP)—The temperature at Canton-Akron Airport this morning was an ice-forming 30 degrees. Zanesville hit the freezing mark and Toledo's low was 34. Mansfield registered the same.

Senate Probers Say Coercion Used On Sailors

MARION WALN, 53, city, escaped serious injury when the State Highway Department power mower he was operating was demolished by the northbound B&O passenger train on Route 238 just south of Bloomingburg Wednesday afternoon. The motor, torn from the chassis, is shown in the picture at extreme left. Waln was still on the mower seat when the train passed.

Sheriff Hays and Highway Patrolman R. W. Hackemeyer, investigated the accident and were told by Waln that he saw the red warning lights blinking. They said he told them he pressed his foot on the brakes but that they failed to work and the mower drifted up to the tracks.

The locomotive was not disabled but the train was halted for upward of a half hour, while an investigation was made by Engineer Walter McCoy and J. Greenlee, conductor, both of Newark.

Five of the sailors suddenly left New York by plane on April 7, under Soviet escort. Dispatches from Russia quoted them as saying they went home voluntarily. Four associates who remain here said they were coerced.

The Senate Internal Security subcommittee made the request in accusing Sobolev's staff of using "coercion, force and duress" in an effort to induce nine Russian sailors to return to their Communist homeland after obtaining asylum in this country.

It said there were no "realistic efforts" to learn whether duress was used on the sailors and that unjustified concessions were made "in response to Soviet pressures and treachery."

SECRET TESTIMONY made public by the subcommittee as part of its report disclosed government officials learned of the seamen's impending return to Russia the night before but concluded there was no evidence then to warrant blocking their departure.

The five seamen were among nine crewmen of the Soviet tanker Tuapse who were granted asylum in this country last October after their ship, bound for Red China with a load of jet fuel, was captured by Chinese Nationalists.

In recent hearings, the subcommittee heard testimony from the four crewmen still here and from others indicating that the five who "defected" to the Soviet Union were kidnapped by Soviet agents.

The subcommittee urged the expulsion of Sobolev and Konstantin Eklmow, first secretary of the Soviet U. N. delegation.

Under the agreement establishing U. N. headquarters in New York City, the United States reserves the right to take action against any official who engages in activities "outside his official capacity."

Invoking that provision, this government on April 25 expelled from the United States two lower ranking members of the Soviet U. N. delegation whose activities on behalf of the five seamen were termed "objectionable."

In the same note, the State Department protested Sobolev's conduct but did not demand his recall.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE made public testimony taken secretly from an Immigration Service officer, who said each of the seamen was interviewed separately at the airport from which they departed for Russia while Sobolev was "kept at a distance."

Subcommittee counsel Robert Morris, questioning the immigration officer, said the landlord of two of the seamen who lived in Paterson, N. J., had testified that two Soviet U. N. officials had appeared at their house on the night of April 5 and left early the next morning with the seamen.

He recalled the landlord's testimony that the seamen's room was in "wild disarray," that a bloody shirt and undershirt were found, and that there were other evidences of violence.

"Was that information available to the immigration authorities?" Morris asked. "It was not, sir," the officer replied.

Cost Of Dying Goes Up Slowly

COLUMBUS (AP)—The president of the National Funeral Directors Assn. says the increase in the cost of dying has not kept pace with the increasing cost of living.

Jerry Spears of Columbus said yesterday the rate of increase of funeral expenses is far below the rate increase of the staples of life.

The average cost of a funeral in the United States, Spears added, is about $616.

Extension Of GI Home Loans To Be Tied To Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A three-year extension of the GI home loan program was proposed to the Senate today as an amendment to the multibillion-dollar omnibus housing bill.

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) said he planned to sponsor the extension along with Senators Hill (D-Ala.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.). He made the announcement as the Senate prepared to take up the housing bill, which would increase Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority, continue public housing development and provide special low-cost housing for elderly persons.

The GI loan program now is scheduled to expire for most veterans on July 25, 1957, but its extension has been urged by home builder and real estate groups and by veterans organizations. They have contended action must be taken this year to prevent a big slowdown in home building.

Lehman said his proposed amendment would apply to both the loan guarantee and the direct loan programs operated by the Veterans Administration.

As of the end of 1955, the VA estimated it had underwritten 4,200,000 GI home loans with a total principal of about $33 billion. About one in every five loans had been paid off in full.

Except for the GI loan extension, Sparkman said he expects the measure to be passed by the Senate in about the same form approved by the Senate Banking Committee. Sparkman, floor manager for the bill, said he expected only one day of debate.

The principal fight is expected to be made over public housing. The committee recommended authorization for about 135,000 new units of public housing each year. President Eisenhower asked a program limited to 35,000 units a year for two years.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), administration spokesman on housing, said he would ask that Eisenhower's program be substituted for the committee figure, but advocates of the lower figure conceded they were not too hopeful. They were beaten last year on an identical move.

Other major features of the bill would:

Liberalize credit terms for private housing for elderly persons, with FHA insurance up to 100 per cent of the loans, permission for cosigners on notes, and down payments as low as $200.

Provide 75,000 public housing rental units for the elderly over a five-year period, in addition to the regular units.

Grandma Freed In Kidnap Case In Bellefontaine

BELLEFONTAINE (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Elmer Godwin ordered a directed verdict of acquittal yesterday in the case of a grandmother accused of kidnapping her own grandchild.

The judge dismissed charges against Mrs. Georgette Kreglow of nearby DeGraff on grounds that an appellate court decision in the grandchild's custody case had not been remanded to the lower court for execution when the alleged kidnapping occurred last Aug. 10.

The custody fight revolved about Carol Sue Householder, now 5. The appellate court decision awarded custody of the child to her mother.

Carol Sue was with Mrs. Kreglow in Tampa, Fla., when the grandmother was arrested.

State Department Hit For Inaction Against UN Delegate Sobolev

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators urged the State Department today to throw out of this country Arkady Sobolev, chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, and one of his top aides.

Armed Boy Swipes Red Farm Tractor

MARIETTA (U)—Area police have been searching the last 24 hours for a 14-year-old runaway boy armed with a rifle. They also are looking for a red tractor he swiped from a farmer.

A red tractor is a little hard to hide, but no one has spotted the Muskingum County youngster or the tractor since yesterday. That was before Frank Stacy, a farmer about 10 miles north of Marietta, discovered his $1,500 tractor, complete with cultivator, was missing.

Stacy told police the boy came to his farm early Tuesday morning in a rainstorm and asked for a drink of water and explained he had become lost while hunting. He was carrying a rifle equipped with a telescopic sight. It was not until the next day Stacy discovered the tractor was missing. Stacy found the boy's bicycle and fishing rod abandoned on the farm.

A neighbor reported he saw the boy with the tractor Tuesday. He said he questioned the youngster, but he explained he was taking it to a garage for Stacy. Another report said boy and tractor were seen east of Marietta yesterday.

Daytonian Splits Skull Of Wife, 50

DAYTON (U)—Police today held a 53-year-old man who split his wife's skull with an ax as police rushed toward them in a vain effort to rescue the woman.

Police said they were called last night to the west-side apartment of Reed Alexander by neighbors who said Alexander and his wife Elizabeth, 50, were quarreling. When police arrived, the two were standing in the street in front of the apartment.

As officers ran toward the couple, Alexander raised a long-handled ax and struck his wife. She died instantly.

And 'Islands' To Be Put At Junction

After considerable study and discussion at an informal meeting of council following the regular session Wednesday night, approval was given to plans for installing traffic lights, several safety islands, marked channels for traffic, an overhead traffic sign and street widening to lessen hazards at the junction of West Court Street and Clinton, Leesburg and Highland Avenues.

As a result of the plans adopted, which included features submitted by Councilman Paul Van Voorhis, former chairman of the Safety Service Committee, City Manager James F. Parkinson will proceed with the work of carrying out the plans.

Chief among the plans are two traffic lights, one on the north side of West Court Street, with green arrow showing constantly to permit free flow of west-bound traffic into Clinton Avenue, and a regular red, amber and green light to regulate west-bound traffic turning into Leesburg or Highland Avenues.

A traffic light at the south side of Clinton Avenue at the intersection, will regulate east-bound traffic from Clinton Avenue to Court Street.

The lights will be so arranged to care for traffic from and to Highland and Leesburg Avenues.

Some widening of three streets at and near the junction are designed to add materially to the workings of the new plan.

COURT STREET will be widened three feet on the north side for about 100 feet; Clinton Avenue will be widened two feet on the south side, and Highland Avenue will be widened 2 1/2 feet on the west side and 1 1/2 feet on the east side.

No left turn will be permitted from Highland Avenue into Clinton Avenue and no left turns will be permitted from Leesburg Avenue into Clinton Avenue. A left turn will be allowed from Highland into Leesburg Avenue, however.

The overhead signs, supported by standards at each side of the street, will be located on West Court Street 100 feet or more from the junction. Each lane is to be marked so the motorist can see what lane to take, to go straight ahead or turn into either Leesburg or Highland Avenues.

Included in the plans are alternate state routes designed to decrease traffic at the junction of the four thoroughfares and lessen dangers still more.

The route will be from West Court Street, south on Circle Avenue one block to East Street and west on East Street to Highland Avenue. East Street block is to be regraded and improved.

The other alternate route is south on Oakland Avenue from Clinton Avenue to Leesburg Avenue and thence east to the intersection to be zoned.

Channels will be painted, with arrows indicating directions and the traffic "islands" will further guide traffic, under the plans being carried out.

Brown Endorsed

WASHINGTON (U)—Ohio House Republicans yesterday unanimously endorsed Rep. Clarence Brown for re-election to another four-year term as GOP national committee member from their state. He has served as national committeeman since 1944.

"It takes seven years and more to turn out a doctor."

"Only doctors now can afford to send their sons to medical school," he said. "There isn't a chance for a laboring man's son to get to be a doctor."

Evans, son of a doctor and father of two boys, augments his faculty salary by drafting all but the baseball questions for The $64,000 Question television program. He said he doesn't produce the baseball questions because "I don't like intellectuals pretending an enthusiasm for baseball."

Society soon will be deciding whether it wants its doctors to come from the talented and the skilled, or those who can afford it, Evans continued.

But Man Not Seriously Hurt

MARION WALN, 53, city, escaped serious injury when the State Highway Department power mower he was operating was demolished by the northbound B&O passenger train on Route 238 just south of Bloomingburg Wednesday afternoon. The motor, torn from the chassis, is shown in the picture at extreme left. Waln was still on the mower seat when the train passed.

He narrowly escaped serious injury or death Wednesday at 3:30 P. M., when a power mowing machine he was operating on Route 238 just south of Bloomingburg, was struck by the east-bound B&O passenger train and almost demolished.

Waln, employee of the state Highway Department, escaped with a few scratches and bruises, but the power mower was torn up. The motor was knocked free of the remainder of the mower and hurled 20 feet when the engine struck it while traveling 40 to 50 miles an hour.

The left cylinder of the locomotive struck the motor of the mowing machine and knocked it out. The housing of the motor was even torn loose under Waln's feet.

Strangely enough Waln was still on the seat of the mower after it had been torn up and whirled completely around. He leaped from the mower after the train had passed, somewhat dazed but not badly hurt.

He was brought to Memorial

Double Life Ends For 'Sea Captain' And His 2 Wives

MATAWAN, N. J. (U)—A double life has caught up with a 56-year-old former barge captain.

Lester Horton has been put in the county jail at Freehold, unable to post $10,000 bail, after police charged he maintained two wives 10 miles apart.

Horton avoided discovery by telling both wives he was a sea captain, according to police. It allowed him to stay a few days with each spouse and then join the other.

The double life came to light when a wife in Keansburg, Mrs. Genevieve Buijak Horton, reported him missing. Police who investigated say they found a second wife, the former Margaret Mulcahy, in Cliffwood.

Fatal Accident Brings Sentence

MARIETTA (U)—Common Pleas Judge Leonard B. Ogle has sentenced William W. Riggs, 23, of Marietta, to four months in jail on a charge of second degree manslaughter. Riggs also was fined $200 and costs.

In a jury trial Monday, Riggs was found guilty of the traffic death of Miss Mary Margaret Winters Feb. 18.

Other major features of the bill would:

Liberalize credit terms for private housing for elderly persons, with FHA insurance up to 100 per cent of the loans, permission for cosigners on notes, and down payments as low as $200.

Provide 75,000 public housing rental units for the elderly over a five-year period, in addition to the regular units.

Raise the ceiling on FHA home improvement loans from $2,500 to $3,500 and extend the repayment

temperature dips

CLEVELAND (U)—The temperature at Canton-Akron Airport this morning was an ice-forming 30 degrees. Zanesville hit the freezing mark and Toledo's low was 34. Mansfield registered the same.

Hospital by Sheriff Orland Hays and, after treatment, was released.

Sheriff Hays and Highway Patrolman R. W. Hackmeyer, investigated the accident and were told by Waln that he saw the red warning lights blinking. They said he told them he pressed his foot on the brakes but that they failed to work and the mower drifted up to the tracks.

The locomotive was not disabled but the train was halted for upward of a half hour, while an investigation was made by Engineer Walter McCoy and J. Greenlee, conductor, both of Newark.

Extension Of GI Home Loans To Be Tied To Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (U)—A three-year extension of the GI home loan program was proposed to the Senate today as an amendment to the multibillion-dollar omnibus housing bill.

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) said he planned to sponsor the extension along with Senators Hill (D-Ala.) and Sparkman (D-Ala.). He made the announcement as the Senate prepared to take up the housing bill, which would increase Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority, continue public housing development and provide special low-cost housing for elderly persons.

The GI loan program now is scheduled to expire for most veterans on July 25, 1957, but its extension has been urged by home builder and real estate groups and by veterans organizations. They have contended action must be taken this year to prevent a big slowdown in home building.

Lehman said his proposed amendment would apply to both the loan guarantee and the direct loan programs operated by the Veterans Administration.

As of the end of 1955, the VA estimated it had underwritten 4,260,000 GI home loans with a total principal of about $33 billion. About one in every five loans had been paid off in full.

Except for the GI loan extension, Sparkman said he expects the measure to be passed by the Senate in about the same form approved by the Senate Banking Committee. Sparkman, floor manager for the bill, said he expected only one day of debate.

The principal fight is expected to be made over public housing. The committee recommended authorization for about 135,000 new units of public housing each year. President Eisenhower asked a program limited to 35,000 units a year for two years.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), administration spokesman on housing, said he would ask that Eisenhower's program be substituted for the committee figure, but advocates of the lower figure conceded they were not too hopeful. They were beaten last year on an identical move.

Other major features of the bill would:

Liberalize credit terms for private housing for elderly persons, with FHA insurance up to 100 per cent of the loans, permission for cosigners on notes, and down payments as low as $200.

Provide 75,000 public housing rental units for the elderly over a five-year period, in addition to the regular units.

Senate Probers Say Coercion Used On Sailors

State Department Hit
For Inaction Against
UN Delegate Sobolev

WASHINGTON (U)—Senate investigators urged the State Department today to throw out of this country Arkady Sobolev, chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, and one of his top aides.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee made the request in accusing Sobolev's staff of using "coercion, force and duress" in an effort to induce nine Russian sailors to return to their Communist homeland after obtaining asylum in this country.

Five of the sailors suddenly left New York by plane on April 7, under Soviet escort. Dispatches from Russia quoted them as saying they went home voluntarily. Four associates who remain here said they were coerced.

The subcommittee rebuked the State Department and the Immigration Service, saying they failed to take effective action to protect the youthful sailors from being whisked out of the country.

It said there were no "realistic efforts" to learn whether duress was used on the sailors and that unjustified concessions were made "in response to Soviet pressures and truculence."

SECRET TESTIMONY made public by the subcommittee as part of its report disclosed government officials learned of the seamen's impending return to Russia the night before but concluded there was no evidence then to warrant blocking their departure.

The five seamen were among nine crewmen of the Soviet tanker Tuapse who were granted asylum in this country last October after their ship, bound for Red China with a load of jet fuel, was captured by Chinese Nationalists.

In recent hearings, the subcommittee heard testimony from the four crewmen still here and from others indicating that the five who "defected" to the Soviet Union were kidnapped by Soviet agents.

The subcommittee urged the expulsion of Sobolev and Konstantin Ekimov, first secretary of the Soviet U. N. delegation.

Under the agreement establishing U. N. headquarters in New York City, the United States reserves the right to take action against any official who engages in activities "outside his official capacity."

Invoking that provision, this government on April 25 expelled from the United States two lower ranking members of the Soviet U. N. delegation whose activities on behalf of the five seamen were termed "objectionable."

In the same note, the State Department protested Sobolev's conduct but did not demand his recall.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE made a public testimony taken secretly from an Immigration Service officer, who said each of the seamen was interviewed separately at the airport from which they departed for Russia while Sobolev was "kept at a distance."

Subcommittee counsel Robert Morris, questioning the immigration officer, said the landlord of two of the seamen who lived in Paterson, N. J., had testified that two Soviet U. N. officials had appeared at their house on the night of April 5 and left early the next morning with the seamen.

He recalled the landlord's testimony that the seamen's room was in "wild disarray," that a bloody shirt and undershirt were found, and that there were other evidences of violence.

"Was that information available to the immigration authorities?" Morris asked. "It was not, sir," the officer replied.

Cost Of Dying Goes Up Slowly

COLUMBUS (U)—The president of the National Funeral Directors Assn. says the increase in the cost of dying has not kept pace with the increasing cost of living.

Jerry Spears of Columbus said yesterday the rate of increase of funeral expenses is far below the rate increase of the staples of life.

The average cost of a funeral in the United States, Spears added, is about $616.

School Building Plans Discussed

City Board Meets With Architects

A school building program was discussed in considerable detail by the Washington C. H. School Board with representatives of three architectural firms at its special official meeting Wednesday night.

The discussion was of a preliminary nature and did not get down to specific plans. Rather, members of the board raised questions about the style of architecture followed in general by the three different firms and the features of their buildings.

These questions were answered by the representatives of the firms - Lethly, Schreiber & Associates of Springfield, McLaughlin & Keil of Lima and Joseph Baker & Associates of Newark.

Members of the board had previously inspected several of the school buildings most recently put up by these firms.

In general, the board said it was interested primarily in elementary school buildings. However, it was apparent that in the back of its collective mind, was a replacement of the old East Side School building.

The discussion did not go extensively into the possibilities of enlarging any of the present buildings.

The board took no action—it did not intend to—at this meeting.

The next step for the board probably will be to determine just what the building program should be to meet the needs now and in the future and then call the architects' representative in for another conference.

When the architect is finally determined, a sketch of the buildings probably will be submitted for the board's study. After that, and when the board settles on the building that best suits the needs, the estimates will be submitted for further study.

The board has an agreement, which virtually amounts to an option, to buy a 29-acre tract on North Elm Street if a bond issue for a building program is approved.

SUPT. W. A. SMITH also reported to the board at this meeting that a tentative teacher salary schedule had been drawn up by the joint committee of board members and teacher representatives at its meeting in the afternoon.

On this committee are W. A. Lovell and Elmer Reed of the board, Miss Marjorie Evans of the high school faculty, Leo Whiteside, principal of the Sunnyside School and Supt. Smith.

Details of the schedule were not taken up by the board at this meeting because of lack of time. However, it will be gone over step-by-step at the next meeting, which probably will be a special session.

The board, at its last meeting, agreed that there should be an average (not gross board) $400 increase in teacher salaries—if the funds to provide it are available. The amount of school funds will be determined to a considerable extent on state aid from the Foundation Program's new method of distribution based on the 30-pupil classroom unit plan.

Deadline Friday For C of C Banquet Meeting Tickets

Word has gone out to members of the Chamber of Commerce that the deadline for making reservations for the annual dinner is Friday evening; that is the time for getting tickets for it.

He said in his letter that places for only 225 will be available at the banquet tables.

The banquet and meeting are to be held next Tuesday at the Country Club.

Features of the after-dinner program will be the unfolding of the master plan for the development of the Washington C. H. area and the announcement of the election of the new directors.

Demand For Students Of "Tough" Courses

In communities all over this country reports indicate that educators who are alert to the needs of the times are expressing some worry over failure of our present day schools to interest young men and women in scientific and mathematical subjects.

It is pointed out that the importance of this is being demonstrated in the supreme efforts of big business to hire college seniors as never before in our national history.

In order for our colleges to turn out more engineers, chemists, laboratory technicians and well trained accountants, it will be up to our high schools to produce more graduates interested in such subjects.

Some competent observers also are declaring that too many of our boys and girls at the high school level have taken the easy way out through the elective system in public schools by choosing as many "snap" courses as possible in order to enjoy more entertaining courses and as many pleasant extra - curricular activities as possible.

It is declared by some commentators on this subject that even the smaller number of talented students have found little encouragement for special aptitudes in the courses offered by many high schools. They say further that some of these difficulties stem from the elementary and junior high school inadequacies of the programs offered. Students who are "scared off" in their younger years are not likely to try the "hard" subjects later.

Science courses for high school students who are genuinely interested in these fields ought to be part of every school program and should be sufficiently broad to form a sound basis for future college courses.

In Washington C. H. High School, fortunately, the student has excellent courses provided in advanced mathematics and science, to form a satisfactory background for college training along this line.

One nationally read magazine reports that since the first of this year American college campuses have been thronged by thousands of business scouts inspecting and interviewing thousands of seniors.

As an example it is reported as of last November, 160 companies expected to pay an average of $394 a month to start, for engineers, $352 for accountants.

These figures are more than 50 percent higher than in 1947, and demonstrate the rising premium put on college trained individuals.

The senior must face some hard decisions. Since he is investing the cost of his education (close to $10,000) and possibly his entire career in one company, he should give intensive study to that organization's methods and prospects.

Despite all efforts to find the right man (one firm figures its average cost to recruit and interview a candidate is $1,600), companies lose many after hiring. In 126 firms surveyed by Northwestern University, turnover averaged 33 percent during the graduates' first five years of work.

Though they are naturally ambitious to reach the top, graduates should be aware that the summits of business are sparsely inhabited. One large company says that 75 percent of hired graduates will reach the "beginning level of middle management," paying $10,000, but that only 25 percent of this group will advance to higher strata paying $15,000 or more.

Diet and Health

Ounce of Prevention May Balk Pyorrhea

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The older you get the more apt you are to develop pyorrhea. It can be a major dental problem of adults, although it seldom attacks youngsters.

Eventually, a great many of you, especially men, can expect to develop the condition to some extent. If left unchecked, pyorrhea generally spreads to the tooth sockets. The teeth then become loosened and are lost. So see your dentist at regular intervals, for your health's sake.

Early Treatment

Yet, pyorrhea is preventable to a great extent. And once it does occur, early treatment may save your teeth.

Pyorrhea is a condition which attacks the tissues around your teeth. Generally, it results from an inflammation of the gums called gingivitis. A tendency of the gums to bleed easily may be the first indication that you have gingivitis.

This may be caused by any one of a number of things. Maybe a poor diet is to blame. Or maybe it's the collection of tartar at the necks of your teeth. Poor mouth hygiene and persistent wedging of food in the crevices between your teeth might be responsible.

Several Causes

Perhaps it may be caused by crowns, bridges or dental fillings which irritate your gums. Failure of your teeth to come together properly when chewing might be the cause.

The best way of preventing gingivitis and pyorrhea is to have your dentist cleanse your teeth regularly. Brushing your teeth after every meal, or at least twice a day, is a good idea, too.

Once the disorder has appeared, your doctor probably will recommend that you brush your teeth with a liquid dentifrice for which he can supply a prescription. Use of dental floss after each meal is also advisable.

Your doctor may also suggest use of potassium chlorate mouth wash (one teaspoon potassium chlorate in half a glass of warm water) after meals.

Hydrocortisone dental ointment may be applied to the gums to treat inflammation.

Massaging the gums and cleansing the teeth might help even after the disorder has started, but, as in most cases, it's usually easier to prevent the condition than to treat it.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. J.: Does cortisone help gout?
Answer: The new hormone ACTH and cortisone will help severe attacks of gout when it develops. However, they will not prevent attacks. Careful watching of the diet will often do this.

CANTON (AP)—Two local boys, aged 16 and 13, have been cited in juvenile court for extorting $2.50 from a frail fellow student.

Police Capt. Frank Bors Jr. said the boys threatened a 16-year-old boy, small for his age and suffering from a heart condition, to "give us some money or else."

The threatened pupil gave 25 cents to each of the boys at one time and then $1 to each this week, police said. The accused and their parents will appear in court at a later date.

2 Greatest Claims Of Dixie

By Hal Boyle

CONNLEY'S CREEK, N. C. (AP) Two of the southland's greatest claims to fame are grits and southern womanhood.

The exact virtues of each remain something of a mystery to the rest of the country, so on a trip here I decided to find out the answers to these puzzlers as my public service for 1956.

Now that my research is over, I'm not sure whether I'm any less confused than when I began. Let's take grits first. Like most people I had assumed you mined grits, just as you do salt or coal. Well, it turns out that isn't true at all. No one knows just how that old myth got started.

"Grits come from corn," explained my host at breakfast one morning. "They're just hominy ground up and cooked. There just ain't any food better than country ham, red-eye gravy and good old grits. Have some."

"Some damfool Yankees claim grits taste like library paste," said my host, genially. "What do you think?"

He pushed over a plate. I gingerly spooned up some white grits in which swam some golden butter.

"Why that's ridiculous," I replied.

My host looked so pleased that I didn't have the heart to add that the real difference is—library paste tastes colder than grits. Grits, to me, didn't taste like anything except a mouthful of lukewarm cotton.

"You have to be born to 'em to really appreciate grits," continued my host.

That, I gather is the real secret. Personally, I'm afraid I was born 45 years too late.

Now about Southern womanhood. What makes it so extra special?

"We have the prettiest girls in the world," explained one man I asked. "The farther south you go the prettier they get. That is, they do until you reach Atlanta. Below Atlanta the quality thins out some."

That didn't seem to be the whole answer. So I asked two young ladies, Mary and Margie, what they thought was the difference between Northern and Southern girls.

"There is a coldness about Northern girls," said Mary, who is married. "They aren't as warm or talkative when you meet them. They are more aloof."

"Yes," said Margie, who is single. "And Northern girls are surer of themselves. They know exactly what they want. They have definite opinions on everything. And they know how to chase a man. My, I wouldn't know even how to begin."

Mary arched her eyebrows at this as she glanced over at Margie, but said nothing.

"Southern girls are much less aggressive," continued Margie.

"Our menfolk don't like us to speak out too much. You want to know what Northern girls have most that Southern girls would like to have? Well, men and money. And some of them are our men. There's a shortage of men in the South. Too many of them grow up and go forth."

"But aren't Southern girls better at cooking and sewing?" I inquired.

"I can't sew or make my own dresses, but I can cook some things," Margie said.

"What?"

"Damn it," said Margie, blushing. "Did you have to ask that?"

One thing both Mary and Margie agreed on — that Southern girls are more romantic, and more loyal to their men.

Later, still unsatisfied that I had solved the secret of Southern womanhood's charm, I put the question to an elderly Southerner.

"First, let me close the door," he said. Then, sure he couldn't be overheard, he said:

"Son, I did a lot of traveling as a young man. The only difference between courting a Southern and a Northern girl is that the Southern girl can chase you harder without your even knowing she's after you."

"There isn't any real difference in 'em after you marry except this: A Southern girl hawls you out in a softer voice. And since she speaks slower, it takes her longer to get through."

"The one thing you can be sure of is this: Whether you marry a Northern or a Southern girl you'll find each has a long memory of what a man does wrong."

"But if you quote me on this I'll denounce you as a liar. I don't want to be tarred and feathered and run out of town."

Everybody clear on Southern womanhood?

Are You Scared Of Modern Life?

By George Sokolsky

Among my recent lighter reading is a book entitled "Our Daily Poison," written by Leonard Wickenden. It is not a whodunit nor a moral tract. Rather, it is a description of the poisons which we consume as a product of industrialization, standardization and modernization. The book does not list all of them, as no book could.

In the good old days when mother spent much of her day cooking and baking the house always smelled of exciting things to eat, and when we died, it was from something usual like chronic indigestion. In those days when the doctor came to the house, his first command was, "Stick your tongue out." Apparently, just by looking at the tongue, he could solve all problems and be usually did by prescribing castor oil for one horn of the dilemma and paregoric for the other. Somehow the Human Race survived both, as we are here to attest, although by available statistics it should have been otherwise.

Today, according to this book, we eat the products of DDT, fluorides, hormones, chlorine dioxide and the Lord knows what else. Also we vaporize and fumigate and inhale and fill our lungs with poisons from smoke-stacks, from exhausts, and from cigars, cigarettes with or without complex superstructures to get rid of the smoke in spite of the fact that the only sound reason for smoking is to inhale the smoke.

It is a fascinating little book, particularly its attack on store bread which I don't like anyhow, preferring the home-baked or a sour rye or a pumpernickel, none of which I am now permitted to eat because I enjoy them. When one falls into hands of doctors, their rule is, if the patient enjoys it it is against the diet. But store bread, I do not like, even for a diet.

When I ate for pleasure, I used to cut my bread fairly thick. Nowadays, most bread is cut by machine and comes out about an eighth of an inch thick which is too thin. They even do it to Viennese bread which thus cannot take butter without crumbling the bread. It is a tough life!

However, the author of this book does not quarrel about that. His argument is that the best ingredients are milled out of the grain and are fed to hogs and cattle. If they are good enough for hogs, why not for people? That is a very good question because hogs are fed scientifically, while humans, in this country, eat as much for pleasure as for good health. In fact, most of the breads which I have been instructed to eat, at one time or another, for good health, such as gluten bread, I let stand in the refrigerator until someone comes along and throws the loaf out. The theory used to be that I might be frightened into eating what is good for me — I'd sooner starve.

At any rate, what the author of this book particularly objects to is chlorine dioxide which is a maturing substance. They used to put agene into bread, only to discover that it was a wrong thing to do. Now they use chlorine dioxide. It sure was a marvelous how the old folks took yeast, flour, water, eggs and sometimes a little milk or sugar and made bread, without a maturing substance. And it tasted good — oh, so good!

That is something that few of the younger generation know anything about. They may know the precise difference between the Marxism of Kautsky and Lenin, but not about the virtues of home-baked bread as compared to store bread wrapped in cellophane and full of chemicals.

Do you know what a polyoxyethylene is? See, even the Food and Drug Administration is not too strong for it in bread, but glycerides — well, you have to put something in store bread or it will dry up and have to be given to the Salvation Army or round up into bread crumbs and canned. So they put softer into the bread to keep it soft and fresh even on the third or fourth day.

Anyhow, I read the book with great interest and satisfaction.

I should worry. I'm on a diet anyhow to get skinny and the less I eat, the skinnier I'll get. When men wore whiskers and looked strong, they were not skinny. (Copyright, 1955, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Demand For Students Of "Tough" Courses

In communities all over this country reports indicate that educators who are alert to the needs of the times are expressing some worry over failure of our present day schools to interest young men and women in scientific and mathematical subjects.

It is pointed out that the importance of this is being demonstrated in the supreme efforts of big business to hire college seniors as never before in our national history.

In order for our colleges to turn out more engineers, chemists, laboratory technicians and well trained accountants, it will be up to our high schools to produce more graduates interested in such subjects.

Some competent observers also are declaring that too many of our boys and girls at the high school level have taken the easy way out through the elective system in public schools by choosing as many "snap" courses as possible in order to enjoy more entertaining courses and as many pleasant extra-curricular activities as possible.

It is declared by some commentators on this subject that even the smaller number of talented students have found little encouragement for special aptitudes in the courses offered by many high schools. They say further that some of these difficulties stem from the elementary and junior high school inadequacies of the programs offered. Students who are "scared off" in their younger years are not likely to try the "hard" subjects later.

Science courses for high school students who are genuinely interested in these fields ought to be part of every school program and should be sufficiently broad to form a sound basis for future college courses.

In Washington C. H. High School, fortunately, the student has excellent courses provided in advanced mathematics and science, to form a satisfactory background for college training along this line.

One nationally read magazine reports that since the first of this year American college campuses have been thronged by thousands of business scouts inspecting and interviewing thousands of seniors.

As an example it is reported as of last November, 160 companies expected to pay an average of $394 a month to start, for engineers, $352 for accountants.

These figures are more than 50 percent higher than in 1947, and demonstrate the rising premium put on college trained individuals.

The senior must face some hard decisions. Since he is investing the cost of his education (close to $10,000) and possibly his entire career in one company, he should give intensive study to that organization's methods and prospects.

Despite all efforts to find the right man (one firm figures its average cost to recruit and interview a candidate is $1,600), companies lose many after hiring. In 126 firms surveyed by Northwestern University, turnover averaged 33 percent during the graduates' first five years of work.

Though they are naturally ambitious to reach the top, graduates should be aware that the summits of business are sparsely inhabited. One large company says that 75 percent of hired graduates will reach the "beginning level of middle management," paying $10,000, but that only 25 percent of this group will advance to higher strata paying $15,000 or more.

Diet and Health

Ounce of Prevention May Balk Pyorrhea

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The older you get the more apt you are to develop pyorrhea. It can be a major dental problem of adults, although it seldom attacks youngsters.

Eventually, a great many of you, especially men, can expect to develop the condition to some extent. If left unchecked, pyorrhea generally spreads to the tooth sockets. The teeth then become loosened and are lost. So see your dentist at regular intervals, for your health's sake.

Early Treatment

Yet, pyorrhea is preventable to a great extent. And once it does occur, early treatment may save your teeth.

Pyorrhea is a condition which attacks the tissues around your teeth. Generally, it results from an inflammation of the gums called gingivitis. A tendency of the gums to bleed easily may be the first indication that you have gingivitis.

This may be caused by any one of a number of things. Maybe a poor diet is to blame. Or maybe it's the collection of tartar at the necks of your teeth. Poor mouth hygiene and persistent wedging of food in the crevices between your teeth might be responsible.

Several Causes

Perhaps it may be caused by crowns, bridges or dental fillings which irritate your gums. Failure of your teeth to come together properly when chewing might be the cause.

The best way of preventing gingivitis and pyorrhea is to have your dentist cleanse your teeth regularly. Brushing your teeth after every meal, or at least twice a day, is a good idea, too.

Once the disorder has appeared, your doctor probably will recommend that you brush your teeth with a liquid dentifrice for which he can supply a prescription. Use of dental floss after each meal is also advisable.

Your doctor may also suggest use of potassium chlorate mouthwash (one teaspoon potassium chlorate in half a glass of warm water) after meals.

Hydrocortisone dental ointment may be applied to the gums to treat inflammation.

Massaging the gums and cleansing the teeth might help even after the disorder has started, but, as in most cases, it's usually easier to prevent the condition than to treat it.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B. J.: Does cortisone help gout?
Answer: The new hormone ACTH and cortisone will help severe attacks of gout when it develops. However, they will not prevent attacks. Careful watching of the diet will often do this.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Babe, 14, is a girl who came to stay with us, eight months ago. She is very boy crazy. At first it was married men.

I sat down and talked with her as a mother would, and I believe it has done her much good. She seems to have lost her man-craziness. But a new problem has developed, namely, her behavior with my three young sons, who are 8, 6 and 2 years of age.

Babe fools with the boys, kissing and tickling them, which I myself don't do. Also their dad fools with them like that. I kiss the boys good-night, and off to school; and maybe once during the day they might put their arms around me and I'll kiss them. But to my way of thinking, Babe overdoes it.

I have talked to her about the boys, telling her that she may hurt them; but it does no good. The case worker tells me not to worry about the younger boys, just boys her age. I've asked my sons to push her away, but that won't work. We feel the boys are too young for much explanation; and yet this may be unfair to them.

A. P. DEAR A. P.: In my opinion, your mother instinct is sound, and the case worker is wrong, in praising the potentials of Babe's excessive love play with your small sons.

The case worker's soothing indication that Babe's behavior on this score isn't a matter for correction, suggests that she is more of a theorist than a woman of experience, in the field of child rearing. Also it suggests that she has a one-track mind, and that her mind is so fixed upon Babe's requirements of help, in your situation, that she overlooks the necessity of effectively safeguarding your sons' welfare, in association with Babe. While fully sympathetic to Babe's difficulties, we nevertheless must recognize that she is an emotionally maladjusted youngster, who has been twisted by lack of family devotion. Her boy-craziness and bids for favor with married men are (have been) symptoms of desperate need to love and be loved.

Under your sympathetic wing, this misdirected drive has been abated somewhat, due to your counsel and the health of your personality, perhaps. But Babe's underlying hunger for physical identification with loving and beloved persons is still there; and at present she is trying blindly to assuage it via aggressive erotic kissing and tickling of your sons.

You don't have to explain to either side, other than to say it's not the way for Babe to behave, and you want no more of it. The father's horseplay is another matter—and doesn't provide a valid excuse for Babe to try to imitate him.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

Pennsy Turnpike Toll Hike Delayed

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission has voted to delay indefinitely a proposed hike in tolls.

The commission voted 3-1 in favor of delaying, with Republican Commissioner James F. Torrance opposing. The proposed turnpike rate change would have hiked fares for automobiles but would have reduced charges for trucks over the 48-mile expressway.

2 Uncles, Aunt To Get Estate

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Supreme Court of Ohio has held that two uncles and an aunt of Dennis Kelly of Columbus are sole heirs to his $9,900 estate.

The 7-0 decision reversed a Franklin County appellate court decision that half the estate should go to the two brothers and a sister of Kelly's adoptive mother and half to his adoptive father's 11 cousins, once removed.

Probate Court previously held that the brothers and sister were the sole heirs. The Supreme Court affirmed that decision.

Recount Is Sought In Knox County

MOUNT VERNON (AP) — Jewett A. Montgomery, Mount Vernon insurance man, has asked a recount in the May 8 primary race for the Republican nomination for state representative.

Montgomery lost to Knox County Auditor Gail Porterfield by 24 votes. The official count was Porterfield 1,787, Montgomery 1,763. The nomination is to the post being vacated by veteran Rep. George H. Kirkpatrick.

Montgomery asked a recount in 10 of the county's 53 districts. It will be conducted Saturday night, the first recount in the county in 26 years.

No Harm Is Seen In Pay-As-Go Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) says he does not believe a "pay as you build" amendment adopted by his Finance Committee would lead to a slowdown in the road-building program.

The amendment, put into the highway bill Tuesday by a 7-6 vote would carry out a proposal of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey to limit the spending in any year of the 16-year program to revenues actually on hand.

Before the Finance Committee are tax features of a bill to authorize a multi-billion-dollar program of highway development.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Babe, 14, is a girl who came to stay with us, eight months ago. She is very boy crazy. At first it was married men.

I sat down and talked with her, as a mother would; and I believe it has done her much good. She seems to have lost her man-craziness. But a new problem has developed, namely, her behavior with my three young sons, who are 8, 6 and 2 years of age.

Babe fools with the boys, kissing and tickling them, which I myself don't do. Also their dad fools with them like that. I kiss the boys good-night, and off to school; and maybe once during the day they might put their arms around me and I'll kiss them. But to my way of thinking, Babe overdoes it.

I have talked to her about the boys, telling her that she may hurt them; but it does no good. The case worker tells me not to worry about the younger boys, just boys her age. I've asked my sons to push her away, but that won't work. We feel the boys are too young for much explanation; and yet this may be unfair to them.

A. P. DEAR A. P.: In my opinion, your mother instinct is sound, and the case worker is wrong, in appraising the potentials of Babe's excessive love play with your small sons.

The case worker's soothing indication that Babe's behavior on this score isn't a matter for correction, suggests that she is more of a theorist than a woman of experience, in the field of child rearing. Also it suggests that she has a one-track mind, and that her mind is so fixed upon Babe's requirements of help, in your situation, that she overlooks the necessity of effectively safeguarding your sons' welfare, in association with Babe.

While fully sympathetic to Babe's difficulties, we nevertheless must recognize that she is an emotionally maladjusted youngster, who has been twisted by lack of family devotion. Her boy-craziness and bids for favor with married men are (have been) symptoms of desperate need to love and be loved.

Under your sympathetic wing, this misdirected drive has been abated somewhat, due to your counsel and the health of your personality, perhaps. But Babe's underlying hunger for physical identification with loving and beloved persons is still there; and at present she is trying blindly to assuage it via aggressive erotic kissing-and-tickling of your sons.

You don't have to explain to either side, other than to say it's not the way for Babe to behave, and you want no more of it. The father's horseplay is another matter—and doesn't provide a valid excuse for Babe to try to imitate him.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

League Of Women Voters Discuss Nationally Studied Topic

The May meeting of the League of Women Voters of Washington C. H., held at the home of Mrs. Paul Craig recently, featured a panel and discussion of "Conservation of Natural Resources," a topic which has been studied nationally the past year.

Mrs. C. C. Marine, the local president, opened the meeting and introduced Mrs. Andrew Sparks as panel moderator. Mrs. Sparks in turn introduced three ladies from the Cincinnati area who came to share their information: Mrs. John Becker and Mrs. Bartlett Palmer, members of the Cincinnati League of Women Voters, and Mrs. C. P. Sticksel, president of the Cincinnati Federation of Garden Clubs. Other members of the panel were Mrs. Frank Baker, Mrs. William Clift, Mrs. Walter Craig, Mrs. Norman Boop, and Mrs. Marine.

Mrs. Palmer introduced the subject of conservation as the next frontier to be conquered. Geographically the United States has reached its limits and now we must learn to use the resources of the area more wisely. This idea was first brought to the people on a national scale by Theodore Roosevelt, and Ohio began its intensive conservation practices about eight years ago. Mrs. Becker spoke of the pilot studies being made in northern and southern Ohio under the State Conservation Commission, with Mrs. Sticksel telling of the Plant Ohio Program, and the work of the Federated Garden Clubs of Ohio in planting trees.

Each of the panel members represented one or more of the division chiefs of the Ohio Conservation Commission, and told of the work of the Federated Garden Clubs of Ohio in planting trees.

Each of the panel members represented one or more of the division chiefs of the Ohio Conservation Commission, and told of the work of the Federated Garden Clubs of Ohio in planting trees.

Mrs. Boop spoke about the Lands and Soil Division which furnishes technical information to water service companies and to individual farmers. Mrs. Clift gave a very enlightening description of the Shore Division's work along Lake Erie where heavy equipment and many men are busy full time dredging the shore area of sand deposited at the mouths of north flowing rivers. Those present were asked to guess the cost to the state of this tremendous operation, and was amazed to learn that it costs nothing; it pays for itself by selling the sand dredged for commercial purposes.

Mrs. Boop again spoke of the Geological Survey Division which supplies information in reply to an average of twenty requests a day about the underground structure of Ohio. Mrs. Craig told of the Forestry Division with its three nurseries in Sandusky, Marietta and Zanesville, and 19 state forests. This division supplies trees to 4-H and Boy Scout groups, and to the garden clubs for the Plant Ohio Program.

Mrs. Marine explained the Wildlife Division and stated that while Ohio ranks 35th in land area, it ranks sixth in number of hunting and fishing licenses issued. Mrs. Clift mentioned the 55 state parks, and emphasized the need of more money in this division, and the national average budget for state parks from state taxes is 20 cents per visitor. In Ohio the parks are allowed only five cents per visitor, but this is too low to provide the camping facilities which Ohio residents would like, but have been unwilling to pay for.

Lively discussion followed each division, with the showing of colored slides forming a resume of the discussion. Pictures were shown of areas before and after conservation practices were put in use in forests and fields, along highways and strip mines, and by rivers and streams.

The discussion continued during an enjoyable social hour when punch and light refreshments were served by the executive officers of the local League.

New idea for stew: sprinkle beef cubes with chopped onion, crushed garlic and oregano the night before you plan to cook it; cover tightly and refrigerate. Next day brown the meat and onions in fat and proceed as usual.

Members Of Wesley Mite Meet Wednesday

The Wesley Mite Society of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the church, with several members in attendance.

The meeting opened by group singing of the hymn "What a Friend," and Mrs. Earl Scott, devotional leader, gave several readings from the "Upper Room" and closed with prayer.

Mrs. John Markley, president, presided over the business session and the reading of the secretary and treasurer's reports were accepted as read. Activities for the month included fifty-two calls made, forty-eight cards sent, fifteen donations and eighteen flowers. A report was given on the collection of sales tax stamps and the holiday plates, a project of the society, and round robin cards were mailed to Mrs. Pearl Lemons and Miss Annette Stafford.

Singing of the hymn "Blessed Assurance," and the society benediction closed the business meeting.

Mrs. Earl Scott, program leader, presented Mrs. Rena Bogges who gave the reading "Bills," written by Edgar Guest, and Mrs. Scott read "Here Sleep The Brave," and the poem "Mother." Two contests were conducted with Mrs. Lester Dodd and Mrs. Willard Moore as the winners.

Miss Mary Edge, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ella Wills, Mrs. Dean Burris and Mrs. Rena Bogges served delicious refreshments from a table which was decorated with yellow iris and honeysuckle, and informal visiting was greatly enjoyed.

Birthday Party Honors Brother And Sister

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pendleton entertained at a birthday party at their home in Madison Mills and the occasion honored the birthdays of their son, Jerry who was seven years old, and daughter Patti, three years old.

The children enjoyed various games during the afternoon with awards presented to Rodger LeBeau, Mary Kay Dorn and Carole Conley, after which the two honored guests opened their many gifts and Jerry and Patti expressed their thanks in their own sweet manner.

Birthday cake and ice cream was served to the following guests present: Billy Douglas, Barbara Smith, Wayne King, Diane LeBeau, Linda Minchell, Barbara Grim, Rodger LeBeau, Steve Huff, Billie Johnston, Beverly Smith, Vickie Frazier, Danny Campbell and Elaine Snapp, all of Madison Mills; Mrs. Dave Stoer and children Sue, Pam and Connie, of Five Points; Mrs. Willis Conley, children Carole and Willis of Williamsport; Mrs. James Pendleton, Mrs. Clyde Hott, Miss Gladys Roe, Mrs. Ben Conley, Mrs. Bruce Cochran, Mrs. Melvin Williams, of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. John Donahue, Brenda and Mary Kay Dorn of Sedalia, and Mrs. Hugh Gidding and Peggy Penrod of this city.

Personals

Mrs. Fred Mark, Mrs. Webber French, Mrs. Ford Ervin, Mrs. Ernest Chaney, Mrs. Ellis Bishop, Mrs. Edith Acton, Mrs. Glenn Miller and Mrs. Ed Fite made up a motoring party Wednesday to Cincinnati, to see Cinerama.

Mrs. Paul S. Craig and Mrs. John P. Case motored to Cincinnati, Wednesday evening to attend the annual banquet of the Convention of the Ohio League of Women Voters. Mrs. John G. Lee, national president gave a most interesting speech.

Pic-Fay Club Tours Garden Club In Lancaster

Thirteen members of the Pic-Fay Garden Club motored to Lancaster Tuesday, where they visited the Boys' Industrial School's gardens and greenhouses.

Of special interest was the banana tree which was in bloom and many beautiful ornamental trees were also seen.

Those enjoying the visit and luncheon at the Colonial Inn were Mrs. C. E. Hughes, Mrs. D. W. Roth, Mrs. H. E. Louis, Mrs. E. C. McQuay, Mrs. Merton Tootle, Mrs. T. H. Gooley, Mrs. John Gifford, Mrs. L. M. Tarbill, Mrs. Floyd James, Mrs. W. F. Gillespie, Mrs. W. T. Wood, Mrs. Warren Briggs and Mrs. Irvin Yeoman.

Posy Garden Club Meets Wednesday

Mrs. Charles Kelley was hostess Wednesday afternoon to members of the Posy Garden Club, and Mrs. William Dailey was included as a guest.

President Mrs. Max Schlichter presided at the business session, and during the meeting members decided to visit the Park of Roses in Columbus, Wednesday, June 20, taking their lunch and spending the entire day at the park.

"Gigantic Flower Arrangements," was title of interesting paper given by Mrs. H. W. Melvin, program leader, and during the social hour that followed, Mrs. Kelley served a delicious dessert course.

Members present were Mrs. Walter Butcher, Mrs. A. E. Dawson, Mrs. Glenn Hidy, Mrs. Sadie LeBeau, Mrs. Max Schlichter, Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mrs. Lawrence Wood, Mrs. Dwight King and Mrs. Dailey joined the club as a new member.

A DRESS AND CAPE COSTUME in black Italian silk linen comes from Ben Reig's collection. Black velvet collar, the cape, fastened double-breasted and given its own small bouquet of white lilies. The dress has short sleeves and is widely-squared at the neckline. Designed primarily for spring, it will be useful all summer in all but tropical climes.

'Cadet' Teacher Program Rapped

CLEVELAND — The president of the 1,400-member Cleveland Education Assn. says he "views with alarm" the cadet teacher training program which is to be inaugurated here next fall. In a letter to the Cleveland School Board, Craig Seasholes, John Adams teacher, urged retention of the 4-year training requirement for all new teachers. The cadet plan would provide class rooms with teachers with only three years of study.

Miss Routson Hostess At Circle Meeting

The Virginia Circle of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church met at the church Wednesday afternoon, with Miss Maude Routson as hostess.

Mrs. Leora Booco, chairman, opened the meeting by reading "How Little It Costs," and roll call followed with each member naming their favorite month.

Mrs. Roy Booco was welcomed a new member and Mrs. Harriett Cutlip was included as a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. John Ritenour was in charge of the devotional period and the Scripture she chose was taken from the Second Chapter of Isaiah. An article on the Atomic Age, written by Dr. Grayson Kirk was given by Mrs. Ritenour, who also included the article "World Tension Upon Parents," followed by prayer.

The program for the afternoon was also conducted by Mrs. Ritenour and an article, "What I Think of America," written by an immigrant from Europe, proved most interesting.

Two clever contests followed by the serving of a dainty refreshment course by Miss Routson brought the afternoon to a close.

Rose Buds Enjoy Tour Of Coffee Shop

Members of the Rose Buds Blue Bird Group of East Side School were guests of the Washington Coffee Shop, Tuesday evening when they were taken on a tour through the dining room and kitchen.

The way to properly set a table was demonstrated, and later in the evening members and their leader, Mrs. Russell Moore, were served refreshments.

Blue Birds present were Kay Evans, Gloria Graham, Karen Karney, Sharon Mosley, Patty Moore, Peggy Shaw, Doris Shultz, Carol Stratton and Kay Soldan.

Approaching Marriage Is Being Announced

An announcement is being made here of the approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Sylvia Grove to Mr. George Hiram Hitchcock, Ensign, United States Naval Air Force, which will be a June event.

Miss Grove is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Dewey Grove of Madisonville, and Ensign Hitchcock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram J. Hitchcock who reside in Terrace Park, near Cincinnati. The Hitchcock family were residents of this city several years ago and very well known.

The ceremony will be performed at four thirty o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, June 2nd, in the Mariemont Community Church in Cincinnati.

Add a can of minced clams (including the juice) to a thick potato soup. Mix in the clams just before serving and heat without boiling. Sprinkle with minced chives or parsley before serving.

Canton To Suspend Special Teaching

CANTON — This city's school board has voted to suspend most of its special teaching services in the elementary schools for the coming year. The move will release 21 teachers for regular classroom duty.

Back of the move was a budget problem created when voters in the May primary failed to approve a 2.7 mill operating levy.

League Of Women Voters Discuss Nationally Studied Topic

The May meeting of the League of Women Voters of Washington C. H., held at the home of Mrs. Paul Craig recently, featured a panel and discussion of "Conservation of Natural Resources," a topic which has been studied nationally the past year.

Mrs. C. C. Marine, the local president, opened the meeting and introduced Mrs. Andrew Sparks as panel moderator. Mrs. Sparks in turn introduced three ladies from the Cincinnati area who came to share their information: Mrs. John Becker and Mrs. Bartlett Palmer, members of the Cincinnati League of Women Voters, and Mrs. C. P. Sticksel, president of the Cincinnati Federation of Garden Clubs. Other members of the panel were Mrs. Frank Baker, Mrs. William Clift, Mrs. Walter Craig, Mrs. Norman Boop, and Mrs. Marine.

Mrs. Palmer introduced the subject of conservation as the next frontier to be conquered. Geographically the United States has reached its limits and now we must learn to use the resources of the area more wisely. This idea was first brought to the people on a national scale by Theodore Roosevelt, and Ohio began its intensive conservation practices about eight years ago. Mrs. Becker spoke of the pilot studies being made in northern and southern Ohio under the State Conservation Commission, with Mrs. Sticksel telling of the Plant Ohio Program, and the work of the Federated Garden Clubs of Ohio in planting trees.

Each of the panel members represented one or more of the division chiefs of the Ohio Conservation Commission, and told of the work of that department. Mrs. Baker related the studies being made of water supplies in Ohio, perhaps the most vital branch of the Commission to each individual citizen in Ohio.

Mrs. Boop spoke about the Lands and Soil Division which furnishes technical information to water service companies and to individual farmers. Mrs. Clift gave a very enlightening description of the Shore Division's work along Lake Erie where heavy equipment and many men are busy full time dredging the shore area of sand deposited at the mouths of north-flowing rivers. Those present were asked to guess the cost to the state of this tremendous operation, and was amazed to learn that it costs nothing; it pays for itself by selling the sand dredged for commercial purposes.

Mrs. Boop again spoke of the Geological Survey Division which supplies information in reply to an average of twenty requests a day about the underground structure of Ohio. Mrs. Craig told of the Forestry Division with its three nurseries in Sandusky, Marietta and Zanesville, and 19 state forests. This division supplies trees to 4-H and Boy Scout groups, and to the garden clubs for the Plant Ohio Program.

Mrs. Marine explained the Wildlife Division and stated that while Ohio ranks 35th in land area, it ranks sixth in number of hunting and fishing licenses issued. Mrs. Clift mentioned the 55 state parks, and emphasized the need of more money in this division, and the national average budget for state parks from state taxes is 20 cents per visitor. In Ohio the parks are allowed only five cents per visitor, but this is too low to provide the camping facilities which Ohio residents would like, but have been unwilling to pay for.

Lively discussion followed each division, with the showing of colored slides forming a resume of the discussion. Pictures were shown of areas before and after conservation practices were put in use in forests and fields, along highways and strip mines, and by rivers and streams.

The discussion continued during an enjoyable social hour when punch and light refreshments were served by the executive officers of the local League.

New idea for stew: sprinkle beef cubes with chopped onion, crushed garlic and oregano the night before you plan to cook it; cover tightly and refrigerate. Next day brown the meat and onions in fat and proceed as usual.

Members Of Wesley Mite Meet Wednesday

The Wesley Mite Society of Grace Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the church, with several members in attendance.

The meeting opened by group singing of the hymn "What a Friend," and Mrs. Earl Scott, devotional leader, gave several readings from the "Upper Room" and closed with prayer.

Mrs. John Markley, president, presided over the business session and the reading of the secretary and treasurer's reports were accepted as read. Activities for the month included fifty-two calls made, forty-eight cards sent, fifteen donations and eighteen flowers. A report was given on the collection of sales tax stamps and the holiday plates, a project of the society, and round robin cards were mailed to Mrs. Pearl Lemons and Miss Annette Stafford.

Singing of the hymn "Blessed Assurance," and the society benediction closed the business meeting.

Mrs. Earl Scott, program leader, presented Mrs. Rena Boggess who gave the reading "Bills," written by Edgar Guest, and Mrs. Scott read "Here Sleep The Brave," and the poem "Mother." Two contests were conducted with Mrs. Lester Dodd and Mrs. Willard Moore as the winners.

Miss Mary Edge, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ella Wills, Mrs. Dean Burris and Mrs. Rena Boggess served delicious refreshments from a table which was decorated with yellow iris and honeysuckle, and informal visiting was greatly enjoyed.

Birthday Party Honors Brother And Sister

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pendleton entertained at a birthday party at their home in Madison Mills and the occasion honored the birthdays of their son, Jerry who was seven years old, and daughter Patti, three years old.

The children enjoyed various games during the afternoon with awards presented to Rodger LeBeau, Mary Kay Dorn and Carole Conley, after which the two honored guests opened their many gifts and Jerry and Patti expressed their thanks in their own sweet manner.

Birthday cake and ice cream was served to the following guests present: Billy Douglas, Barbara Smith, Wayne King, Diane LeBeau, Linda Minchell, Barbara Grim, Rodger LeBeau, Steve Huff, Billie Johnston, Beverly Smith, Vickie Frazier, Danny Campbell and Elaine Snapp, all of Madison Mills; Mrs. Dave Stoer and children Sue, Pam and Connie, of Five Points; Mrs. Willis Conley, children Carole and Willis of Williamsport; Mrs. James Pendleton, Mrs. Clyde Hott, Miss Gladys Roe, Mrs. Ben Conley, Mrs. Bruce Cochran, Mrs. Melvin Williams, of Mt. Sterling; Mr. and Mrs. John Donahue, Brenda and Mary Kay Dorn of Sedalia, and Mrs. Hugh Gidding and Peggy Penrod of this city.

Personals

Mrs. Fred Mark, Mrs. Webber French, Mrs. Ford Ervin, Mrs. Ernest Chaney, Mrs. Ellis Bishop, Mrs. Edith Acton, Mrs. Glenn Miller and Mrs. Ed Fite made up a motoring party Wednesday to Cincinnati, to see Cinerama.

Mrs. Paul S. Craig and Mrs. John P. Case motored to Cincinnati, Wednesday evening to attend the annual banquet of the Convention of the Ohio League of Women Voters. Mrs. John G. Lee, national president gave a most interesting speech.

Pic-Fay Club Tours Garden Club In Lancaster

Thirteen members of the Pic-Fay Garden Club motored to Lancaster Tuesday, where they visited the Boys' Industrial School's gardens and greenhouses.

Of special interest was the banana tree which was in bloom and many beautiful ornamental trees were also seen.

Those enjoying the visit and luncheon at the Colonial Inn were Mrs. C. E. Hughes, Mrs. D. W. Roth, Mrs. H. E. Louis, Mrs. E. C. McQuay, Mrs. Merton Tootle, Mrs. T. H. Gooley, Mrs. John Gifford, Mrs. L. M. Tarbill, Mrs. Floyd James, Mrs. W. F. Gillespie, Mrs. W. T. Wood, Mrs. Warren Briggs and Mrs. Irvin Yeoman.

Posy Garden Club Meets Wednesday

Mrs. Charles Kelley was hostess Wednesday afternoon to members of the Posy Garden Club, and Mrs. William Dailey was included as a guest.

President Mrs. Max Schlichter presided at the business session, and during the meeting members decided to visit the Park of Roses in Columbus, Wednesday, June 20, taking their lunch and spending the entire day at the park.

"Gigantic Flower Arrangements," was title of interesting paper given by Mrs. H. W. Melvin, program leader, and during the social hour that followed, Mrs. Kelley served a delicious dessert course.

Members present were Mrs. Walter Butcher, Mrs. A. E. Dawson, Mrs. Glenn Hidy, Mrs. Sadie LeBeau, Mrs. Max Schlichter, Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mrs. Lawrence Wood, Mrs. Dwight King and Mrs. Dailey joined the club as a new member.

Miss Routson Hostess At Circle Meeting

The Virginia Circle of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church met at the church Wednesday afternoon, with Miss Maude Routson as hostess.

Mrs. Leora Booco, chairman, opened the meeting by reading "How Little It Costs," and roll call followed with each member naming their favorite month.

Mrs. Booco was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Harriett Cutlip was included as a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. John Ritenour was in charge of the devotional period and the Scripture she chose was taken from the Second Chapter of Isaiah. An article on the Atomic Age, written by Dr. Grayson Kirk was given by Mrs. Ritenour, who also included the article "World Tension Upon Parents," followed by prayer.

The program for the afternoon was also conducted by Mrs. Ritenour and an article, "What I Think of America," written by an immigrant from Europe, proved most interesting.

Two clever contests followed by the serving of a dainty refreshment course by Miss Routson brought the afternoon to a close.

Rose Buds Enjoy Tour Of Coffee Shop

Members of the Rose Buds Blue Bird Group of East Side School were guests of the Washington Coffee Shop, Tuesday evening when they were taken on a tour through the dining room and kitchen.

The way to properly set a table was demonstrated, and later in the evening members and their leader, Mrs. Russell Moore, were served refreshments.

Blue Birds present were Kay Evans, Gloria Graham, Karen Karney, Sharon Mosley, Patty Moore, Peggy Shaw, Doris Shultz, Carol Stratton and Kay Soldan.

Approaching Marriage Is Being Announced

An announcement is being made here of the approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Sylvia Grove to Mr. George Hiram Hitchcock, Ensign, United States Naval Air Force, which will be a June event.

Miss Grove is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Dewey Grove of Madisonville, and Ensign Hitchcock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram J. Hitchcock who reside in Terrace Park, near Cincinnati. The Hitchcock family were residents of this city several years ago and very well known.

The ceremony will be performed at four thirty o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, June 2nd, in the Mariemont Community Church in Cincinnati.

Add a can of minced clams (including the juice) to a thick potato soup. Mix in the clams just before serving and heat without boiling. Sprinkle with minced chives or parsley before serving.

Canton To Suspend Special Teaching

CANTON (AP)—This city's school board has voted to suspend most of its special teaching services in the elementary schools for the coming year. The move will release 21 teachers for regular classroom duty.

Back of the move was a budget problem created when voters in the May primary failed to approve a 2.7-mill operating levy.

It's Big Week For Nation's Stockholders

Many Firms Holding Annual Meeting To Report To Owners

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — It's another big week for the stockholders. Some of the biggest companies are holding their annual meetings.

While some of the shareholders may be disturbed over what has been happening to the market value of their holdings of late, for the most part the meetings are bringing soothing predictions of expansion and good earnings. But there is also a full mixture of the things that can come up at such get-togethers.

Today is a first for stockholders and management of Ford Motor Co. In tents near the River Rouge plant the public owners are meeting the family and other management officials for the first time. The date for the inaugural was set some time back—before many persons could foresee the present worrisome times in the auto industry.

A generally contented group — shareholders of Jersey Standard Co.—heard its officials Tuesday raise their estimates on the demand for oil this year. President M. J. Rathbone told the meeting in Linden, N. J., that domestic demand should go up 5 per cent this year and demand abroad rise 10 per cent. The shareholders, having got since their last annual meeting the stock split they had long clamored for, also enjoyed a report that earnings were at a record high.

The often boisterous stockholders of the New York Central, meeting today in Albany to hear Robert R. Young's account of his stewardship, were able to call on Thomas E. Dewey, former New York governor, for legal advice on parliamentary procedures. Management was trying to forestall some of the high jinks of recent years.

Commonwealth Edison's stockholders in Chicago increased the total of common stock and heard a prediction that sales would be a little better this year than last with the outlook ever brighter for the next 10 years.

Much of the time at the Consolidated Edison meeting in New York was spent in reassuring the stockholders — and the neighbors — that the company's atomic reactor, to be built on the Hudson River just north of the city, wouldn't be making bombs or other explosives. It will go about the peaceful business of generating heat to be used in producing electricity.

Stockholders of the Hertz Corp. were told in Chicago that their company planned to spend 41 million dollars of their money this year in adding 10,000 passenger cars and 4,000 trucks to their fleet of vehicles available for rental or leasing.

Pan American World Airways stockholders were assured that more Americans than ever will travel abroad this year.

Stock splitting — popular share owner pastime — occupied the owners of Procter & Gamble at a meeting in Cincinnati. The shareholders approved a two for one split of common stock. In turn management told them it planned to raise the dividend rate.

Seiberling Rubber Strike Called Off

AKRON (AP)—A seven-day walk-out at Seiberling Rubber Co., which had idled 1,400 workers, ended yesterday and production was restored.

The Rubber Workers Union, which said it had not authorized a strike, reported that some employees walked out over a dispute whether the truck tire department or the passenger tire department should make a new type of tire.

Preacher Prints His Own Book

Distribution Free Throughout Nation

By RANDOLPH S. HANCOCK

(Central Press Association)

KANNAPOLIS, N. C. He says printing is a hobby. So, it might be in order to call him the "Printing Preacher" of nearby Bethpage and Shiloh Methodist Churches.

That covers the day to day lay activities of the Rev. Earl A. Cook who, last year, sent out 1,500,000 pieces of material to persons throughout the United States at their request.

In addition to filling that printing "order," Reverend Cook filled the orders of 150 "shut-ins," the special orders for his district church groups, and that of his own churches. The charge? None except for actual material used, and postage. He makes no charge to "shut-ins."

"I first became acquainted with type," he says, "in my hometown weekly newspaper shop."

In 1930, about the time he was ordained, he purchased a 3 x 5 hand press. "With type the owner of the weekly newspaper gave me, I set up a printing shop," he explains.

Since that time, Reverend Cook has printed literally millions of tracts, church bulletins, papers for shut-ins, three full size books, and numerous other items.

WITHIN A YEAR, the demand for his printing outgrew the 3 x 5 press. Two years later he purchased a motor driven press. But even this couldn't keep up with the demand for his material.

"My greatest ambition," the Reverend Cook says, "was to print a million tracts a year. Somehow, I felt that if I could produce that many I would be able to supply all the requests that came to me." However, he was mistaken. The demand continued to grow.

"My first rule and pleasure," he says, "was to send a package of tracts to everyone who asked for them. I had no prices in the beginning and none now."

"I sent tracts whether there was any postage or not. I soon found this was a mistake. I just couldn't afford my mounting postage bill. However, when I receive a request for tracts from persons I know have no money for postage, I send them along anyway."

IN 1944, the minister reached his goal of a million tracts. The following year he purchased a 10 x 15 automatic press. Within the past 10 years he has learned to operate a linotype machine at the local newspaper where he sets all his type without charge to him.

The Reverend Cook's printing establishment, located in the basement of Bethpage Methodist Church, is valued at between seven and eight thousand dollars. It's complete with the exception of a type-setting machine.

"I do not publish tracts of a controversial nature," he said. "I stick to sound and worthwhile subjects. They are interdenominational."

When does he have time to do all of this work? "At night," he smiles.

In June of 1955, he printed a book containing the history of his 150-year-old church. Some 500 persons are members of his two churches.

The flight deck of the U. S. aircraft carrier Saratoga has an area of four acres.

$150 Million Kyger Creek Project Draws Group Of Dignitaries

CHESHIRE, Ohio (AP)—This tiny southeastern Ohio town today dedicates the 150-million-dollar Kyger Creek plant, one of two giant power plants built by a group of 15 private power companies to serve the Portsmouth Area Atomic Energy Commission project.

The plant, with a capacity of 1,750,000 kilowatts, is the largest power installation in Ohio and second largest ever built anywhere by private enterprise. The largest such facility is Kyger's sister installation, the 175-million-dollar Clifty Creek plant at Madison, Ind. The 1,290,000 kilowatt Clifty Creek plant was dedicated Wednesday.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche and a host of other dignitaries were to participate in dedication ceremonies in this Gallia County town of 35,000, along with approximately 1,200 other persons from a dozen states.

Lausche was to unveil a large aluminum tablet carrying this message:

"Dedicated to the service and defense of this nation by the investor-owned electric utility companies of this region, acting through the Ohio Valley Electric Corporation."

The Ohio Valley Electric Corp. (OVEC) is made up of 15 private utility companies.

Other officials who were to participate in the dedication ceremony include:

Gov. William C. Marland of West Virginia, Sen. George Pendergast, (R-Ohio), Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins, Republican from Ohio's 11th district, William R. Davlin, secretary of commerce of Pennsylvania, and Philip Sporn, OVEC president.

Construction began in 1952 under a contract calling for a 25-year supply of power to the AEC gas-cooled diffusion plant.

The entire OVEC project, including 60 million dollars for transmission lines, cost about 385 million.

The Clifty Creek generating station will be operated by the Indiana-Kentucky Electric Corp.

OVEC officials said construction on the two plants was completed almost three months ahead of schedule. They said the speed with which the project was completed means the average kilowatt hour less than originally estimated four years ago.

OVEC is furnishing a daily maximum load of 1,950,000 kilowatts of electric power to the AEC plant. Some 220 persons will be employed at the Kyger plant for full-time operations.

The first generating unit at both plants went into commercial operation in February 1955. The fifth and final unit at Kyger Creek was the sixth and final unit at Clifty

Turnpike Offices Due To Move Soon To Strongsville

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio meeting for moving its offices from Columbus to the Berea Administration Building at Strongsville, a commission official says.

C. V. Hartford, acting executive director of the commission, says he has offered the commission's Columbus building to the state for use as an office building.

Hartford said the state would have to reimburse the Turnpike completed in December 1953, and Creek last March.

Commission for the building. It was purchased by the commission for $169,439 and remodeled for $19,509.

State Public Works Director Zoyd Flaler says he will "look over" the building today and make recommendations to Gov. Frank J. Lausche regarding the commission's proposal.

Dye Your Beard, Sir?

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Albuquerque males are growing beards for the city's anniversary celebration, and Mrs. Mildred Dowling, operator of a beauty shop, says a number of men have asked for appointments for professional dye jobs. She says she'll set up special facilities "if we get enough requests."

Blinded Columnist Ready To Go Back To Labor Reporting

NEW YORK (AP)—Blinded labor columnist Victor Riesel is out of the hospital and says he expects to be back at his desk no later than Monday.

Riesel is continuing his nationally syndicated column with the aid of staff assistants.

The writer was blinded by an unidentified acid thrower April 5.

His wife, Evelyn, offered him an arm as he walked out of a New York hospital Wednesday, but he shook it off and walked down the eight steps at the hospital entrance by himself. His eyes were covered with bandage patches.

An aide told newsmen that Riesel "has categorically refused a seeing-eye dog."

Police have assigned a 24-hour guard to Riesel.

A young man threw sulphuric acid into Riesel's face on a mid-Manhattan street in the early morning dark. Riesel has said the attack was motivated by his attacks on racketeers in the labor movement.

Man, 72, Alters City Bus Tickets

CHICAGO (AP)—Thomas A. Harris, 72, a State Street bus driver, called police Wednesday when an elderly man handed him a transfer which Harris said was out-of-date.

Harris told police a new date had been pasted on the transfer given him by Walker Thierien, 72. Police said many of the dates on the nearly 10 transfers found in Thierien's pockets also had been altered. They said he also had a bank book showing deposits of

Thierien, charged with disorderly conduct and using a scheme or device to perpetrate a fraud, was jailed when he refused to put up $25 bond.

High Cost Of Health

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A private room and board for six days in a hospital for $10.50 is pretty reasonable by present day standards. So is a bill for 20 cents for medicine for the same period. These modest sums are the reason St. Luke's Hospital has the bills posted in the lobby — paid by a Mrs. Bonham on July 26, 1892.

Hollywood Finds New Way To Film Addiction Story

HOLLYWOOD — Found: A way to film an addiction story without incensing the censors.

The solution: The hero gets hooked up on cortisone.

Dope addiction was taboo on the screen until Otto Preminger came along with his "Man With the Golden Arm." The picture was refused a seal of the production code administration, Hollywood's self-censor body, but did excellent business anyway.

Now 20th Century-Fox is filming "One in a Million," which is also about addiction but is experiencing no Johnston office troubles. The story is based on an actual case, as reported in the New Yorker.

James Mason plays a school teacher who is suffering from a rare arthritic condition that threatens to cripple him. His doctor prescribes cortisone. This was at a time when the drug was new and its effects not completely known.

"The doctor warns him to take only small amounts," Mason explains. "But the man is desperate. He cannot face life as an invalid."

So he goes on a cortisone binge. He indulges in many adventures to acquire the drug and manages to become deranged in the meantime.

Said Mason: "It has been proven that cortisone in its pure state can affect the mentality of some people, especially those of a schizoid tendency."

He was asked how he thought the picture would affect the public's confidence in cortisone.

"I don't think it will have a bad effect," he replied. "The story takes place when the drug — it's actually a hormone — was new

Next Ohio Execution Set For Utica Man On June 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The next execution in the Ohio Penitentiary electric chair is scheduled for June 15, Warden Ralph W. Alvis said today.

Slated for death that night is Earl Sullivan, 32, of Utica, convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of his estranged wife, Valeria, in that Licking County community Oct. 29, 1955.

Sullivan is one of four men now imprisoned in the penitentiary's "Death Row." The other three are all under indefinite stays of execution, Alvis said.

Sullivan's conviction by a three-judge court was recently upheld by the Fifth District Court of Appeals.

Under indefinite stays are Walter Wilson, 30, Cleveland; Samuel W. Tannhill, 26, Fremont, and Joseph Allen, 61, Cleveland.

Wilson was sentenced to death for the slaying of Joseph Fena in Cleveland, Jan. 19, 1955. Tannhill was given the death penalty for the holdup slaying of Mrs. Shirley Bradford in Fremont, May 2, 1955. Allen was sentenced to die for the slaying of Barry Joiner

Woman Solon Loses Case In High Court

COLUMBUS — The Ohio Supreme Court today reversed a $5,000 award in a malicious slander suit by a former Canton City Council member against another.

The 7-0 decision knocked out the award to Mrs. Esther Archer of Canton's Fourth Ward against Fred Cachat of the First Ward.

A Stark County grand jury indicted Mrs. Archer in 1950 for blackmail stemming from affidavits obtained by Cachat from two city dump workers. The affidavits alleged that the workers paid Mrs. Archer $25 a month to hold their jobs.

Mrs. Archer was acquitted on her second trial in common pleas court and brought an action against Cachat for malicious prosecution.

The trial court held for Cachat but was reversed by an appellate court that returned the case for further proceedings. The lower court then awarded Mrs. Archer $5,000 and the appellate court affirmed the award.

The Supreme Court in reversing lower courts said Cachat was not liable for malicious prosecution.

"He made no attempt," the high court said, "to influence either the foreman of the grand jury or the prosecuting attorney, but merely placed the matter in their hands."

The Supreme Court added that it was the independent actions of the grand jury and the prosecutor which resulted in the indictment.

Air Chief Says Enemy Attack Chance Slight

WASHINGTON — Air Gen. Nathan F. Twining, underlining the "deterrent effect of our long-range striking power," said today he believes chances are "slight" for an air attack on the United States.

However, Twining, the Air Force chief of staff, said the Russian Air Force's long-range attack fleet is "becoming an increasing menace" and that "regardless of how strong our deterrent force, we can never be sure that a potential enemy will not attack."

In a speech for the Civil Air Patrol's national board, Twining made no mention of the inter-service rivalry which mushroomed over the weekend.

Two Senate subcommittees are preparing to investigate the service quarrel which Secretary of Defense Wilson reported yesterday has made President Eisenhower "a bit unhappy."

Last weekend, Army sources gave out documents deploring what they contended was over-emphasis on air power. Some Air Force officers have sought to downrate the Army's Nike anti-aircraft guided missile. And the Navy and Air Force have been feuding over whether Navy carriers and aircraft have any place in strategic bombing operations.

8 Lake Sailors Lost In Mishap

MILWAUKEE — A construction dredge under tow in gale laced Lake Michigan early today, dipped under high waves and plunged to the bottom, taking the lives of 8 of the 18 men aboard.

Three of the bodies were recovered immediately; five others within a few hours as Coast Guard boats scoured the area about four miles east of Cudahy, a suburb south of Milwaukee.

The 10 survivors were taken ashore aboard the tug, James E. Fucik, which had been towing the heavy dredge in high winds and heavy seas, and hospitalized.

Grand Jury Given Eaton Death Case

EATON — Mike Wilczynski, 45, pleaded innocent yesterday to second degree murder and was bound to the Preble County grand jury.

Wilczynski, a tavern operator, is accused of slaying John C. Wright, 23, of Richmond, Ind. Wright was wounded fatally Saturday night. Sheriff Floyd Spitzer said Wilczynski has admitted the shooting but claimed it was in self defense after Wright and others threatened him. The grand jury is due to meet June 4.

5 US University Grads Enter China

HONG KONG — Five Chinese graduates of U. S. universities crossed the border into Red China today with 23 other repatriates.

The returning graduates were Dro Peng Chi-Jui, geologist, and his wife, a biochemist; Dr. Loh Yuan-Chiu, instrument engineer and graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and his scientist wife, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, and Tasi Kih-ruey, professor of education from Ohio State University, returning to Amoy University.

Marysville Lawyer Picked By DiSalle

COLUMBUS — William Coleman, Marysville attorney and Union County Democratic chairman, is Michael V. DiSalle's choice as the new state chairman of the party.

Coleman's selection is subject to confirmation by the Democratic State Central Committee at a meeting later today. That confirmation appeared to be only a formality. gubernatorial nominees traditionally are given the privilege of selecting their chairman.

Injuries Fatal

CINCINNATI — Injuries suffered last May 4 in a fall in the apartment building where she lived caused the death last night of Mrs. Mary Stewart, 86, of suburban Mt. Auburn.

Spain's Escorial has 1,100 outer windows and 2,800 doors.

Hollywood Finds New Way To Film Addiction Story

HOLLYWOOD — Found: A way to film an addiction story without incensing the censors. The solution: The hero gets hooked up on cortisone. Dope addiction was taboo on the screen until Otto Preminger came along with his "Man With the Golden Arm." The picture was refused a seal of the production code administration, Hollywood's self-censor body, but did excellent business anyway.

Now 20th Century-Fox is filming "One in a Million," which is also about addiction but is experiencing no Johnston office troubles. The story is based on an actual case, as reported in the New Yorker.

James Mason plays a school-teacher who is suffering from a rare arthritic condition that threatens to cripple him. His doctor prescribes cortisone. This was at a time when the drug was new and its effects not completely known.

"The doctor warns him to take only small amounts," Mason explains. "But the man is desperate. He cannot face life as an invalid."

So he goes on a cortisone binge. He indulges in many adventures to acquire the drug and manages to become deranged in the meantime.

Said Mason: "It has been proven that cortisone in its pure state can affect the mentality of some people, especially those of a schizoid tendency."

He was asked how he thought the picture would affect the public's confidence in cortisone.

"I don't think it will have a bad effect," he replied. "The story takes place when the drug — it's actually a hormone — was new and relatively untried. The doctors warn the man to go easy.

"As a matter of fact, cortisone is seldom given to patients in its pure form any more. It is combined with other drugs."

Red Chinese Admit 5-Year Plan Faulty

HONG KONG — Red China has admitted that its five-year industrialization plan is in jeopardy. Some members and organizations of the Communist party itself are sabotaging and obstructing the program.

The Peiping People's Daily, reported a number of cases in which party discipline has been violated and production hurt.

Next Ohio Execution Set For Utica Man On June 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The next execution in the Ohio Penitentiary electric chair is scheduled for June 15, Warden Ralph W. Alvis said today.

Slated for death that night is Earl Sullivan, 32, of Utica, convicted of first degree murder in the slaying of his estranged wife, Valeria, in that Licking County community Oct. 29, 1955.

Sullivan is one of four men now imprisoned in the penitentiary's "Death Row." The other three are all under indefinite stays of execution, Alvis said.

Sullivan's conviction by a three-judge court was recently upheld by the Fifth District Court of Appeals.

Under indefinite stays are Walter Wilson, 30, Cleveland; Samuel W. Tannhill, 26, Fremont, and Joseph Allen, 61, Cleveland.

Wilson was sentenced to death for the slaying of Joseph Fena in Cleveland, Jan. 19, 1955. Tannhill was given the death penalty for the holdup slaying of Mrs. Shirley Bradford in Fremont, May 2, 1955. Allen was sentenced to die for the slaying of Barry Joiner

Ancient Culture Now Uncovered

Unusual Find Made
In Washington State

By ELLIS LUCIA
(Central Press Association)
SEATTLE, Wash. — Dig that crazy old culture!

A huge, new natural gas pipeline, 1,487 miles long, has become a welcome dragnet helping to solve this continent's oldest mystery.

Archaeologists are making sure the big ditch doesn't ditch things of value. Construction of the cross-country line is proving a real boon to science. Ditch-digging machines are unearthing important artifacts in isolated areas never before probed.

The discoveries reveal prehistoric life in the west thousands of years before the cowboy. They promise to shed new light on mankind's early existence on the North American continent as far back as 10,000 years.

Modern trench diggers are accomplishing in a few short months what would have taken scientists with hand tools hundreds of years. Eager-eyed archaeologists are working right alongside the pipeline engineers.

They carefully are sifting every scoopful of soil coughed up by the machines in the long trek across arid prairies, rugged mountains and lonely valleys. The result is a treasure-trove of valuable artifacts ranging from spear points to stone fireplaces and early buildings. All are analyzed and recorded for further study.

Dr. Jesse Nusbaum, senior archaeologist for the United States Department of Interior, is in charge of the expedition. His field crew hails largely from the University of Washington.

WHEN DR. NUSBAUM heard of the extensive pipeline project, he took a far-sighted step by writing President C. R. Williams of the Pacific Northwest Pipeline corporation, which is doing the work. Nusbaum asked if archaeologists might tag along so that nothing of importance might be lost to science or the public. Williams enthusiastically pledged full co-operation. The company now is furnishing jeeps, other equipment and extra help.

Near Ignacio, Colo., 10 ruins were uncovered in 10 miles, including 34 sites of early habitation. They were identified as settlements of early pueblo people who practiced dry-land agriculture there about 700 A. D.

Not far from Glenns Ferry, Id., keen-eyed scientists retrieved five projectile points dating back to 6500 B. C. A quarry where men fashioned stone weapons before the dawn of history was found on a Powder river, cattle ranch near La Grande, Ore.

These findings and many more are being pieced into one of history's most difficult jigsaw puzzles. Where did early man come from on this continent? What was he like? Was his culture related to that of Asia or Europe? As tentacles of this giant gas line project reach out over the northwest, they may uncover the answers. Scientists are very hopeful.

"Southern Idaho has not been properly explored," declares Dr. Nusbaum. "In Washington state we are entering areas that have never been explored or studied by archaeologists. The prospects are excellent."

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

SUNNYSIDE SCHOOL'S PET SHOW Tuesday brought out everything from parakeets to a 'possum'. The youngsters, all students in Mrs. Marcus Prosch's fourth grade class, are shown here with the pets they brought to the show. Seated at the desk is Stephen Anders with his 'possum', which escaped three times while the picture was being taken. Clockwise from Stephen are these children and their pets: Don Wilson, parakeet; Dan Cliff, white kitten; Susan Reno, pair of kittens; Ronnie Mayer, beagle; Mike Woods, springer spaniel; Patty Seymour, Dalmation; Gladys Spettigue, rabbit; Roger Lee Cox, rabbit; Judy Edgington, cat in stroller; and Craig Knisley, parakeet. Candidate Hurls Challenge At Foe

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—One Republican in traditionally Democratic North Carolina has entered himself in a race he figures he can't lose.

C. Dana Malpass, Republican candidate for Congress in the 7th District, has challenged the winner of next Saturday's Democratic primary to a 1,000-yard foot race here.

Malpass, in his 60s, weighs less than 160 pounds. The Democratic opponents — incumbent F. Ertel Carlyle and Alton Lennon — both weigh nearly 200.

Private Arsenal Said Missing

AKRON (AP)—When John Boyle returned from vacation this week, he found a whole arsenal missing from his home here.

Boyle conducts a bait and tackle business at his home, sells weapons and also collects guns.

Driver Said Best Person To Halt Traffic Mishaps

CHICAGO (AP)—The man who can do most to solve the nation's huge traffic death problem is the man behind the wheel of the car.

The experts talked in such terms of ultimate responsibility today at group meetings of public officials and civic leaders from 14 states.

The participants—160 of them—are attending a Midwestern regional conference sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, put it this way:

"Traffic safety is an individual problem, and until every driver is conscious of his responsibility, there is no solution in sight."

Theft Made Official

Ancient Culture Now Uncovered

Unusual Find Made
In Washington State

By ELLIS LUCIA
(Central Press Association)
SEATTLE, Wash. — Dig that crazy old culture!

A huge, new natural gas pipeline, 1,487 miles long, has become a welcome dragnet helping to solve this continent's oldest mystery.

Archaeologists are making sure the big ditch doesn't ditch things of value. Construction of the cross-country line is proving a real boon to science. Ditch-digging machines are unearthing important artifacts in isolated areas never before probed.

The discoveries reveal prehistoric life in the west thousands of years before the cowboy. They promise to shed new light on mankind's early existence on the North American continent as far back as 10,000 years.

Modern trench diggers are accomplishing in a few short months what would have taken scientists with hand tools hundreds of years. Eager-eyed archaeologists are working right alongside the pipeline engineers.

They carefully are sifting every scoopful of soil coughed up by the machines in the long trek across arid prairies, rugged mountains and lonely valleys. The result is a treasure-trove of valuable artifacts ranging from spear points to stone fireplaces and early buildings. All are analyzed and recorded for further study.

Dr. Jesse Nusbaum, senior archaeologist for the United States Department of Interior, is in charge of the expedition. His field crew hails largely from the University of Washington.

WHEN DR. NUSBAUM heard of the extensive pipeline project, he took a far-sighted step by writing President C. R. Williams of the Pacific Northwest Pipeline corporation, which is doing the work. Nusbaum asked if archaeologists might tag along so that nothing of importance might be lost to science or the public. Williams enthusiastically pledged full co-operation. The company now is furnishing jeeps, other equipment and extra help.

Near Ignacio, Colo., 10 ruins were uncovered in 10 miles, including 34 sites of early habitation. They were identified as settlements of early pueblo people who practiced dry-land agriculture there about 700 A. D.

Not far from Glens Ferry, Id., keen-eyed scientists retrieved five projectile points dating back to 6500 B. C. A quarry where men fashioned stone weapons before the dawn of history was found on a Powder river cattle ranch near La Grande, Ore.

These findings and many more are being pieced into one of history's most difficult jigsaw puzzles. Where did early man come from on this continent? What was he like? Was his culture related to that of Asia or Europe? As tentacles of this giant gas line project reach out over the northwest, they may uncover the answers. Scientists are very hopeful.

"Southern Idaho has not been properly explored," declares Dr. Nusbaum. "In Washington state we are entering areas that have never been explored or studied by archaeologists. The prospects are excellent."

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

This Year Likely

Gas And Oil Leases
Taken By Kewanee Co.

Indication are that before this year is over, first test wells of the Kewanee Oil Co. of Tulsa, Okla., which has several thousands of acres of land in Fayette and adjacent counties, leased for oil and gas rights, will be drilled.

Ever since the first leases were taken by the company early in April, reports have been going the rounds that the company will drill several deep wells in this area to determine whether or not there is gas or oil in paying quantities in the area under lease.

The leases were taken for 10 years at 10 cents per acre per year. If oil or gas is found, the landowner receives one-eighth of the income from the products of the wells on his or her land.

One report states that one well is to be sunk near New Martinsburg and that it will be drilled to a depth of 3,500 to 4,000 feet, or even deeper, if necessary, to determine whether or not gas or oil exists in paying quantities.

Through the years, some six wells have been sunk in Fayette County in an effort to reach oil or gas, but none was found in paying quantities.

None of these wells, so far as known, exceeded 2,000 feet in depth and while most of them were shot, they failed to produce more than a small amount of oil and gas.

TWO OF THE wells, drilled a half century or more ago were in or near Washington C. H.

One was back of the old ice plant on West Temple Street;

One was on the property of The Ohio Water Service Company at the end of "lost Bridge Road" grade;

One was on the Hains farm a mile or more northeast of Buena Vista;

Another was just south of Route 62 on the east bank of Rattlesnake Creek.

Another was on the former Halger land near the Fayette-Ross County line;

The last one drilled was on the Ford land two or three miles west of Plymouth.

As the Kewanee Oil Co. is prepared to go twice the depth, or even greater, of any of the old wells drilled to make a thorough test for oil and gas here, there is a possibility that some paying wells may be brought in.

However, if producers are found it will be a most agreeable surprise, as no gas or oil lands are known to be located anywhere near this immediate vicinity.

It and when drilling is started, the results will be watched with intense interest throughout the community.

Nike Demonstration
Said Near-Perfect

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—Top Army officers today are mulling over the results of a near-perfect series of tests made during the last two days with the Nike guided missile.

The tests were made in southern New Mexico before more than 1,000 newsmen.

The Nike Wednesday scored hits on three of the four tiny, speeding radio plane drones which zipped high over the target area. It exploded in close proximity to the fourth.

The tests came while an inter-service controversy raged in Washington over an air force claim that the Nike is outclassed by the Navy Talos missile.

Battle of Sexes
In Maine Town

Tiny Village Hall
Has Segregation

WATERFORD, Maine (AP)—In Waterford, women go to the right and men to the left, and nobody knows why.

A recent town meeting in this rural community of 828 residents marked the 25th anniversary of sex segregation at governmental sessions in the tiny town hall on the shore of picturesque Lake Keoka.

For some unexplainable reason the first group of women to attend a business session in town hall here, turned to the right when they entered the unpapered, plaster wall room and seated themselves on the hard wooden benches running lengthways of the building.

The men remained on the left side of a box-stove placed in the exact center of the meeting hall. From the stove to one end of the building ran a lengthy stovepipe which has apparently served as the dividing line.

Only once during the past quarter of a century did the women have the temerity to break the unexplainable tradition. That was when they were fighting among themselves so fiercely that they had no other choice.

BACK IN the late 40's, mothers of Waterford City—the town's center—demanded that a planned consolidated school be built between the "City" and a village end of the town called the "Flat." The "Flat" women wanted the school erected between their village and North Waterford. The situation was so tense that the two groups didn't even speak to each other. A special town meeting was called.

On the morning of the big session the "City" women arrived bright and early and took their accustomed seats on the distaff side of the room.

Arriving in a body shortly thereafter, the "Flat" women decided they would rather mingle with the men than sit with their opponents. They filed to the left.

The "City" folks lost their battle after a torrid discussion. The school was built between the "Flat" and North Waterford in 1949.

Now things are back to normal—and sex segregation prevails in Waterford.

Seniors Drop Plan
To Serve Drinks

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP)—The senior class of Horace Greeley High School here has dropped plans for controlled drinking at the annual prom June 25.

Recently it had been proposed to serve limited drinks to prom patrons over 18 years old, the minimum legal drinking age in New York. The scheme drew adverse criticism, especially from some clergymen.

The 70 seniors later voted on the proposal and turned down the idea, it was learned Wednesday.

WATERFORD, Maine (AP)—In Waterford, women go to the right and men to the left, and nobody knows why.

A recent town meeting in this rural community of 828 residents marked the 25th anniversary of sex segregation at governmental sessions in the tiny town hall on the shore of picturesque Lake Keoka.

For some unexplainable reason the first group of women to attend a business session in town hall here, turned to the right when they entered the unpapered, plaster wall room and seated themselves on the hard wooden benches running lengthways of the building.

The men remained on the left side of a box-stove placed in the exact center of the meeting hall. From the stove to one end of the building ran a lengthy stovepipe which has apparently served as the dividing line.

Only once during the past quarter of a century did the women have the temerity to break the unexplainable tradition. That was when they were fighting among themselves so fiercely that they had no other choice.

BACK IN the late 40's, mothers of Waterford City — the town's center — demanded that a planned consolidated school be built between the "City" and a village end of the town called the "Flat."

The "Flat" women wanted the school erected between their village and North Waterford. The situation was so tense that the two groups didn't even speak to each other. A special town meeting was called.

On the morning of the big session the "City" women arrived bright and early and took their accustomed seats on the distaff side of the room.

Arriving in a body shortly thereafter, the "Flat" women decided they would rather mingle with the men than sit with their opponents. They filed to the left.

The "City" folks lost their battle after a torrid discussion. The school was built between the "Flat" and North Waterford in 1949.

Now things are back to normal — and sex segregation prevails in Waterford.

Seniors Drop Plan
To Serve Drinks

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP)—The senior class of Horace Greeley High School here has dropped plans for controlled drinking at the annual prom June 25.

Recently it had been proposed to serve limited drinks to prom patrons over 18 years old, the minimum legal drinking age in New York. The scheme drew adverse criticism, especially from some clergymen.

The 70 seniors later voted on the proposal and turned down the idea, it was learned Wednesday.

Prices of Meat Go Up a Little

Chicken Featured
In Many Markets

By The Associated Press
Housewives will notice higher prices on a number of meats in most sections of the country this weekend, particularly pork and lamb.

The prices reflect increased wholesale costs to butchers of a week or more ago. Both meats are still below prices of a year ago.

Chicken is the most widely offered special feature for this weekend. A number of retailers have also listed turkeys and smoked hams.

Various cuts of beef are also featured at special prices, but in general beef prices remained unchanged this week.

Vegetable counters have been brightened by the arrival of spring produce from nearby farms. Radishes, spinach and rhubarb are already hitting the market in sufficient quantity to sell at out-standing buys in many sections.

Other good buys are beans, carrots, pascal celery and onions.

Bus Plunge Kills 18

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Eighteen Austrians died last night when a tourist bus plunged from a road and dropped 45 feet into an Alpine stream near Brenner Pass.

Peacocks were pampered pets at the court of Alexander the Great.

Union Services Scheduled Sunday At Bloomingburg

Sunday the congregations of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches in Bloomingburg will join in union services for both Sunday School and worship services, to be held at the Methodist Church.

This is a followup service for the annual high school alumni banquet which is to be held at the high school building Saturday night.

Sunday School will convene at 10 A. M. There will be classes for all ages.

Teddy Boldman, the superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School will be in charge of this service.

The worship service will be highlighted by the return of an alumnus of the high school, Rev. John Parrett, who at present is attending the Pittsburgh Seminary and is a student pastor filling a parish assignment at Polk, Pa.

Rev. Parrett was a graduate of Bloomingburg High School in the class of 1948 and has two years to complete his seminary work.

The worship service will begin immediately following the Sunday School which will be at 11 A. M. The entire community is invited to attend.

Idle Pay Claims Showing Decrease

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports a continued decrease in newly unemployed claimants for state benefits. Claimants unemployed one week or more also dropped.

For the week ended May 19 the BUC reported 7,427 newly unemployed claimants, compared with 7,536 the preceding week and 8,080 the first week in May. For continuing claims, the BUC reported in preliminary figures 46,345 for May 19, 47,894 the preceding week and 59,341 May 5.

Former WCH Man General Manager

James Wilson, a 1943 graduate of Washington C. H. High School, today is the general manager of DEL, Inc., which was founded about three years ago by David Ellies, an old school friend here.

Wilson, the son of Mrs. Marian Gage, 224 West Market Street, was the school news reporter for the Record-Herald when he was in high school here.

Not long after he returned from second World War service with the Coast Guard he went with the Kraft Food Co. He and Mrs. Wilson and their two children, Lance and Leslie Jo, lived in Columbus and then in Bellefontaine. In Bellefontaine, they both were active in community activities. He was scoutmaster of the Lutheran Church-sponsored Scout troop and she was on the Executive board of the Newcomers Club.

DEL, Inc., which has its plant at 401 Cleveland Avenue, Columbus, specializes in making industrial and architectural models and custom manufacturing.

Dem 'Debate' Is Belittled, But GOP Asks To Give Reply

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Republicans want equal time to reply to statements of Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver in their nationally televised joint appearance in Florida Monday night. But it "hardly seems worth answering," GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall said Tuesday. He described the appearance of the two Democratic presidential hopefuls as "the biggest flop of the year."

Kefauver and Stevenson hurled many darts at the Eisenhower administration but ignored their own rivalry in their radio-TV discussion in Miami. Both are seeking the 28 Democratic National Convention votes to be parceled out in the Florida primary election Tuesday.

The two took up the campaign cudgels again Tuesday. Stevenson accused President Eisenhower of failing to assert "positive leadership" to end a new rash of bickering among armed forces branches. Kefauver called for administration action to help the aged and needy.

Stevenson told a Florida audience desegregation is the law of the land and urged patience and good will in solving the problem. The Florida primary is the only Southern test facing the two — both of whom support the Supreme Court's integration rulings.

A top Kefauver aide, J. Howard McGrath, told a Miami audience that if the Tennessee wins the Florida and California primaries and then fails to get the Democratic nomination, "a great revolt" of party members may follow.

Kefauver forces announced plans to saturate Florida with radio and TV plugs in the windup drive for votes.

The California primary is the last in the Kefauver-Stevenson tussle. The winner of the June 3 California test will get all of that state's 68 Democratic convention votes. They are expected to divide Florida's 28, probably not equally.

Elsewhere Tuesday, an exuberant Texas Democratic convention gave Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson thumping endorsement. It named him chief of the state delegation to the national convention and gave him "favorable" support for the presidential nomination.

Johnson, an apostle of "moderation," easily put down a move to force the state organization of the bolters who went over to Eisenhower in the 1952 presidential election. Johnson already had soundly beaten Gov. Allan Shivers—a leader of the bolt—in precinct and district conventions.

Johnson is frequently mentioned as a possible compromise candidate in the event of a national convention deadlock, along with Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri—who Tuesday won the support of eight more Missouri convention delegates.

Symington is generally expected to have the full support of the 38-vote Missouri delegation. Neither he nor Johnson is a declared candidate.

Expected to have the full support of Texas Republicans also met Tuesday and instructed a 14-member delegation to the GOP national convention to seek a campaign platform plank proposing that desegregation be left to the local school boards and courts.

As expected, the harmonious GOP convention ordered its delegation to support Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon for re-election.

Women Voters Study Problems

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio League of Women Voters turned attention today to problems of the organization's work.

Delegates formed small study groups this morning to talk over solutions to the problems of leadership, membership and the workload that the organization sets for itself. At a general session this afternoon, delegates were voting on a proposal to add to its list of continuing responsibilities a recommendation for:

1. An adequate school foundation program.
2. State aid for school districts unable to provide needed classrooms.

Special Session Of Assembly Called To Meet On June 28

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today called a special session of the Ohio Legislature for June 28.

The governor fixed the date 24 days later than his originally preferred time of June 4 because Republican legislative leaders said June 4 was "too early."

The session will take up two pressing subjects:

1. Tax relief for local governments deprived of revenue by U.S. and Ohio Supreme Court decisions nullifying a levy on financial institutions.

2. The need for a change in the law to permit sale of water to a proposed $90 million General Motors plant in the Warren-Youngstown area.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, Senate

Republican leader, and House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) told Lausche yesterday they preferred early July for the special session.

CLOUD SAID he urged Lausche to delay setting a date until after the Legislative Service Commission meets June 1 to consider problems to be presented to the special session. The House speaker said more time is needed to draft legislation.

Lausche said today: "I have called the members of the present General Assembly into extraordinary session for 12 noon, Thursday, June 28, to enact legislation that will recoup for local governments at least 10 million dollars of the losses suffered by them through recent invalidation by the Supreme Court of Ohio of certain bank tax laws and to raise to 15 miles, instead of the present five-mile limitation, within which municipalities can sell water to consumers located outside of their municipal boundaries."

Both Cloud and Mechem have expressed confidence both houses of the Legislature will be glad to do anything reasonable to change what they call "antiquated" water laws to help solve the industrial water problem involving the General Motors plant.

There has been some question whether the huge plant could or would locate near Lordstown, as planned, unless the Legislature takes action quickly.

Carborundum Plans Atom Energy Plant

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Ground will be broken June 1 for a Carborundum Metals plant 10 miles south of here, the first atomic energy plant in West Virginia.

Gen. Clinton Robinson of Niagara Falls, N. Y., president of Carborundum Metals and the parent Carborundum Corp. of America, will be guest speaker. The plant will prepare structural metals for use in nuclear reactors.

Trusted Cashier Held For Theft

SUMTER, S. C. (AP)—A bank officer says a trusted, middle-aged cashier told him he took part in a $300,000 shortage because he "spent more than he earned."

S. L. Roddey, board chairman of the National Bank of South Carolina here, said the cashier told him he no longer has any of the money.

The cashier, Clarence Brayton Cooper Jr., 52, is free on $10,000 bond while awaiting a hearing on a charge of intent to defraud.

British Water Low

LONDON (AP)—Restrictions on use of water were ordered in nine British towns today as the result of Britain's driest spring weather since 1939.

Irish immigrants are credited with introducing white potatoes to New England.

With warm weather promised by the weatherman, it's time to check your picnic needs. Shop Kroger for plates, cups, spoons, olives, pickles, buns, lettuce, mustard, beverages, cold meats, luscious chicken, steaks for grilling and charcoal for the fire.

Ancient Man Blundered Too

Poor Town Planning
Is Now Uncovered

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
(Central Press Association)

Ancients made the same mistakes of poor town planning and in wasting land by overgrazing and deforestation in the first two known settlements of man that still are being made in many sections, according to a team of scientists from the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago which has just returned with many specimens of the culture of 5,000 B.C. in Jarmo and M'leffat in Iraq.

Dr. Robert J. Braidwood and his associates have been probing for many months into a bleak hillside in the area between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers which every school child learns in one of his first ancient history lessons was the cradle of civilization.

The exact spot where man was first rocked in the cradle, however, was not established definitely until a few years ago when a sheik sparked the interest of a touring group from the directorate general of antiquities of Iraq by showing them where he was getting flints of the late Stone Age to light his cigarettes.

CURRENT RESIDENTS of the area near the rich oil-producing town of Kirkut apparently had never suspected that a low mound into which Dr. Braidwood dug was a storehouse of some of the most priceless archaeological discoveries of all time.

Using the new atomic clock to measure precisely the age of radioactivity remaining in charcoal taken from Jarmo's prehistoric fires, it has been discovered that the village thrived in 4857 B.C.

Its 300 inhabitants lived in approximately 50 mudwalled houses occupying a neighborhood about the size of a modern city block. Apparently they developed an efficient peasant economy, with evidence of an evolving political, social and moral order.

After his initial discoveries, which included more than 125,000 flints that had been cut into blades, tools, Dr. Braidwood returned for scientific reinforcements, and assembled one of the best balanced teams of specialists ever to attack an historical riddle.

Willard F. Libby, University of Chicago nuclear physicist, now a commissioner of the Atomic Energy Commission, made the radiology survey that pinned down the date. A geologist, Dr. H. E. Wright of the University of Minnesota, found evidence of Pleistocene age glaciers and established then-existing climate.

Impressions of plants and grains in the mud rains of Jarmo and M'leffat were gathered by Drs. Hans Helback, botanist of the Danish National Museum. Bones of animals found in the two sites were identified by Charles R. Reed of the University of Illinois.

DR. REED established the fact that goats had been domesticated, and that the early hunters had chased bear, fox and gazelle. The primitive agriculturists living at Jarmo had cracked the bones with their teeth or stones to suck out the marrow.

They raised wheat and made sickles of flint that had been laboriously chipped into a sharp-bladed crescent. The climate was arid and much as it is today.

The houses were efficient for the time, and included fireplaces and chimneys. For about 250 years, the residents built on layer of habitations upon another as each set deteriorated or became outmoded, until finally the mound no longer was suitable for a city and it was abandoned.

The thin layer of precious topsoil was carefully cultivated, and with the cutting of the trees around the site a miniature dust bowl finally was created.

Before the community disappeared, however, leisure time must have developed, because works of art began to appear. The people never learned to work with metal, but painstakingly carved marble bowls with still harder flint.

Months will be spent at the Oriental Institute studying the large collection of specimens and fitting them into the mosaic of ancient civilization, but two great mysteries remain at the site itself.

Dr. Braidwood will return to study a wall more than five feet thick, which is much larger than might be expected in a primitive settlement, and to search for more relics in the caves of surrounding hills which may move the history of man back 100,000 years.

Forgotten Heirs Are His Hobby

Administrator's Fee
On Practical Side

BALTIMORE, Md. (P)—Tracing forgotten men's forgotten money is Joseph A. McCabe's hobby.

Now retired, McCabe was for years a certified public accountant for an oil company while he pursued his spare-time interest in probate genealogy—tracing surviving relatives of deceased people who have left forgotten bank accounts.

Now he has a job as a book checker at the Enoch Pratt Free Library, where he had spent much of his spare time anyway, running down forgotten relatives in old records.

Here's how he works: At each year's end, banks publish a list of the accounts which have been inactive for 20 years. Some of the banks will supply McCabe with the amount of such accounts, the last addresses of account holders and other available information.

McCabe then goes to work, searching through new and old city directories at the Pratt library and at the Library of Congress in Washington, where directories from all over the United States are kept. He also checks the city register of wills, the census records at the National Bureau of Archives in Washington, church baptismal records, old newspaper obituaries and many other sources.

WHEN HE finally finds a relative of the deceased account holder and has talked with him long enough to determine that he is the closest survivor, he tells the good news. Usually the surprised relative is glad to sign an agreement which appoints McCabe administrator of the legacy. With an attorney, McCabe goes into probate court, establishes the facts and gets an order for the money.

McCabe has not grown rich on his hobby. Each case takes time and some expense, and the accounts generally don't run into fabulous figures.

One of his most interesting cases involved only a few hundred dollars. It was brought to McCabe's attention by the treasurer of a local bank, who had helped him with a number of previous searches. The account in question had been inactive for 20 years and the holder had died with no immediate family to claim the money.

The bank treasurer informed McCabe that he had checked up to find the closest living relative was a Baltimorean. His name was Joseph A. McCabe.

High Schoolers All Ready For Four-Sports Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school athletic talent descends on Columbus Friday for the annual four-sports program, and more than 1,000 kids will be kicking up cinders or batting baseballs, tennis or golf balls around.

Heaviest interest centers on the two-day track-field meet, with some 95 qualifiers, in which Cleveland East Tech faces a tough crowd defending its Class A laurels while Xenia Woodrow Wilson has a good chance to repeat in Class B.

Four events will be completed Friday as the Class A contingent settles the discus throw, and Class B decides the shot, pole vault and broad jump. Preliminaries will be run off in both classes in the 1 and 22-yard dashes, the 440-yard run, both hurdles, and the mile and half-mile relays to cut the huge field down for Saturday's payoff.

Cincinnati Elder, defending baseball champion, goes for an other Class A crown against East Liverpool, Bryan and Cleveland Benedictine. Lockland's Class B kings failed to qualify. In the Class B field were Prospect, Greenhills and Lake Township of Wood County, with one still coming from the northeast sector where rains delayed regional play.

Cleveland East Tech, with 12 championships and a tie since 1952 in the Class A track competition, finished third in its district meet and qualified only five men and two relay teams for the state meet.

With East Tech facing a struggle to stay at the top, indications were the big challengers would be Cleveland John Adams, Lakewood, Springfield, Akron North, Columbus East and Marion Harding—all impressive winners of district qualifiers.

Xenia Woodrow Wilson showed all kinds of power in winning 9 of 14 events in the Springfield qualifier, piling up 77 3-7 points for the biggest total in the district. But the Greene Mountains are expecting the toughest kind of struggle from Cincinnati DePorres, headed by Jim Bell who last year won both Class B dashes and finished fourth in the broad jump.

Last year's singles tennis victor, Gunter Polte of Springfield, was defeated 6-4, 4-6, 9-7 in the Dayton district finals by Bobby Colburn of Dayton Fairmont, but qualified for state play. Tom Wiley of Middletown, half of the 1955 doubles championship team, had Paul Gates as his partner in winning the district meet and goes after another court crown. Last year he won with Ron Finkleman. Also on deck is Bill Sprinkle of Walnut Hills, runner-up to Polte last season.

Mrs. Wayne Shobe Takes Golf Honors

Mrs. Wayne Shobe turned in a 55, her low for the young season, and took the low score prize at Wednesday's ladies day golfing at the Country Club here.

But Mrs. Marvin Rossmann took the blind bogey and Mrs. Ed Velle the low net score with a 44.

Mrs. Charles Buxton and Mrs. Shobe tied for putting honors with 14 apiece and Mrs. Rossmann was close behind with 15.

Despite the chilly wind, a dozen women teed off for this third ladies day of the fairway sport.

Net scores (actual scores minus the handicaps) for the day were Mrs. Robert Hagerty 58, Mrs. Charles Griffiths 53, Mrs. Paul Pennington 51, Mrs. Ralph Bray 52, Mrs. Scott Harner 49, Mrs. William Junk 46, Mrs. Willa M. Weade 52, Mrs. Roger Littleton 46, Mrs. Jess Carter 49 and Mrs. James Martin 45.

Hogan Is Favored In Dallas Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—A field comparable to that of the National Open moved out today in the first round of the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Golf Tournament with Ben Hogan most prominently mentioned among a score of favorites.

Hogan said he's playing this tournament and next week's $7,000 Texas International Open here to tune up his game for a try at a fifth National Open championship. Only Sam Snead of the big name players is missing and Snead will be here next week for the Texas International.

Red Rolfe, Dartmouth's athletic director and a former Yankee third baseman, led the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League in stolen bases with 11 in 1931. He played for Dartmouth.

Bob Friend Sees Glory For Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bobby Friend, Pittsburgh's big righthand pitcher, who is leading the majors with a 7-2 record as the result of his brilliant 6-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals last night, says the Pirates "definitely will finish in the first division."

"If our pitching holds up we can go all the way," Friend said. "We've got a great bunch of fellows on this club who battle all the way to win."

The Pirates now have a 16-13 record and are 1½ games out of first place. Last season on May 24 they had a 11-24 record and were in seventh place 16 games out of first.

Friend didn't win his seventh game in 1955 until July 23. He went into last night's game with only two days' rest but seemed to get stronger as the game went along. He allowed six hits, all singles. Two came in the third inning when he walked Stan Musial intentionally to fill the bases with two out. Then he settled down and got Ken Boyer on an easy infield tap.

"I had the best stuff I had all year," the 25-year-old Lafayette, Ind., native declared. "I wasn't tired at all. I have been pitching on three days' rest but going in there against the Cards didn't seem to bother me at all."

Friend, who had a 14.9 record last year and whose 2.84 earned run average paced the National League pitchers, said he won't predict how many games he will win but quickly added: "I sure would like to win at least 20. And with the kind of support I've been getting, I hope to do just that."

Summerlin Itches For Shot At Title

DETROIT (AP)—If the world had a heavyweight champion, the cry from the Johnny Summerlin camp would be "bring on the champ."

As it is, Summerlin's handlers are bellowing for "anyone who thinks he can whip us."

The 24-year-old Detroit heavyweight used a strong start and a furious finish last night to take a unanimous 1-round decision from seventh-ranked Harold Carter. His handlers hope the victory will be a springboard to a crack at the crown left vacant when Rocky Marciano retired.

Last Babe Ruth Tryouts For City Teams Slated, 73 Boys To Be Checked

Last call was sounded today for the boys who want to play baseball for one of the four Washington C. H. teams in the Babe Ruth League.

Final tryouts for all four of the city teams are slated for Saturday and Monday on the diamond at the Millikan Avenue Park.

(Tryouts for the other three teams in the league—Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg and Good Hope—will be held separately.)

The managers of the city teams have listed 73 boys they want to see again for tryouts. They are standouts from a group of over 100 boys who have already attended tryout sessions here.

In addition to those 73, the managers have asked any boys who have not yet tried out to come around. The tryouts for 14- and 15-year-olds are slated to begin at 9 A. M. at the ball park. Tryouts for 13-year-olds will start Monday at 5 P. M.

The boys in each age bracket whom managers have asked to come in for tryouts are:

AGE 14—Larry Wright, Eddie Juillerat, Bill Southworth, Bill Crooks, Bob Scott, Buddy Lynch, Bob Huff, Bob Longberry, John Campbell.

Fishing Good Here Now, Says Game Warden

Fishermen, cross your fingers and hope for good weather! If that does any good, you probably will have some right fair fishing for the next few days and over the week end.

You can take the word of Dave Krupla, the county's new game protector for that new outlook for your favorite sport.

Krupla summed it up like this: "Fishing has been pretty good here for the last few days and the outlook is good for as long as the weather is good. The boys have been making some nice catches this week. I've been going along the streams and nearly everyone I've seen has had something."

The game protector made no distinction as to species. Anglers, he said, have been pulling out nearly every kind of fish, from suckers and carp to large mouth bass. He added the bass have been biting for several days and said he expected them to continue . . . until there is a change in the weather.

He leafed through his notebook and came up with this: Earl Willet and Carl Waugh had four carp that weighed from 8 to 10 pounds each and Willet had an 18-inch large mouth bass that tipped the scales at 3 pounds and 4 ounces. He grinned and kept their secret about the place, but did say "they caught them in lower Paint Creek and did not deny that it was somewhere between Rock Mills and Gormley's Crossing."

Krupla said the fishing hereabouts had improved at least 75 percent recently and pointed out that the creeks of the county "just about normal" for this time of year, bankful and water clear.

Every fisherman, he said, knows what a rain and muddy water will do to fishing in streams.

John Blanchard and Jim O'Reilly, who were in spring training with the New York Yankees, are with Birmingham, Ala., of the Southern Assn.

Pacific Coast Conference Ends Session

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The annual spring meeting of the Pacific Coast Conference has ended but the stormy struggle in the field of athletics is far from over.

This may be spring but the song of the birds gave way yesterday to rumbles and grumbles and at least one piercing blow of a whistle that echoed from here to far off Victoria, B. C., where the PCC held its sessions.

Developments included the possibility that the conference would hold a special meeting to consider charges that a "secret booster group" handed out 71,235 to more than 60 athletes at the University of Southern California over a two-year period.

Gov. Knight of California recommended that the board of regents look into the general situation, notably the three-year suspension, heavy fine and loss of a year's eligibility for athletes in the punishment voted for the University of California at Los Angeles.

The American Civil Liberties Union urged the conference to reconsider its action against Bruin football players. The players face loss of a year eligibility unless they can prove themselves innocent of receiving money in excess of the $75 a month allowed by the conference for campus jobs.

Fullmer Favored To Trip Humez

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Humez, France's European middle-weight champion, meets rugged Gene (Cyclone) Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in an important 1-round bout at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. The winner may get the next title shot at champion Ray Robinson.

The Frenchman's record is 83-5-1 with 41 knockouts.

Fullmer, winner of his last three over Rocky Castellani, Gil Turner and Jones, has a 35-3 record, including 19 kayos.

At the moment, Fullmer is a 7-5 favorite. The odds may change by fight time.

Buick Series 6-Passenger 4-Door Wildcat

When it purrs, you reign

YOU CAN hardly hear its whispered might—but man, you sure can feel it.

It's power almost without limit—power that humbles the hills, melts the miles, makes you monarch of all you survey.

For this is a new Buick—a '56 Buick—sparked by the most potent engine in Buick annals—a 322-cubic-inch V8 with a record high compression of 9.5 to 1.

But what makes you feel even more like bossman of the highway is the great new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

First time you tickle the gas pedal you'll know what we mean.

Now—smack in the top inch of gas pedal travel—right where you save gas every turn of the wheels—you get a swift, sure and supremely positive new getaway response.

For smooth and nimble performance—for sheer mastery in traffic—nothing like it ever was.

And that's just part of it. When you need a still greater flow of get-up-and-go for safety's sake, you merely switch the pitch and you zoom out of tight spots.

So come rule the roost in this '56 Buick. Come drive a car with 127 gorgeous inches of wheelbase to give it regal room and a ride that's fit for a king.

Try out Buick's new steering—new center-

grooved brakes—new direct-acting shock absorbers with triple the former volume of jounce-cushioning oil.

Learn how it feels to boss a car that looks like royalty and acts the part to perfection.

We promise—you'll practically purr with delight at the wheel of this dazzler—especially when you discover how easily you can make it your own.

What do you say—shall we expect you today?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

High Schoolers All Ready For Four-Sports Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's high school athletic talent tentatively will defend its team laurels, as did Dave Daniels of Bexley, the individual victor.

H. W. Emswiler, state commissioner, estimated 7 players were still in the running for the 30th annual golf championship, 5 for the 37th tennis title, 12 for the 29th baseball laurels, and 95 for the 47th track-field crowns.

Bob Friend Sees Glory For Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bobby Friend, Pittsburgh's big right-hand pitcher, who is leading the majors with a 7-2 record as the result of his brilliant 6-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals last night, says the Pirates "definitely will finish in the first division."

"If our pitching holds up we can go all the way," Friend said. "We've got a great bunch of fellows on this club who battle all the way to win."

The Pirates now have a 16-13 record and are 1½ games out of first place. Last season on May 24 they had a 11-24 record and were in seventh place 16 games out of first.

Friend didn't win his seventh game in 1955 until July 23. He went into last night's game with only two days' rest but seemed to get stronger as the game went along. He allowed six hits, all singles. Two came in the third inning when he walked Stan Musial intentionally to fill the bases with two out. Then he settled down and got Ken Boyer on an easy infield tap.

"I had the best stuff I had all year," the 25-year-old Lafayette, Ind., native declared. "I wasn't tired at all. I have been pitching on three days' rest but going in there against the Cards didn't seem to bother me at all."

Friend, who had a 14-9 record last year and whose 2.84 earned run average paced the National League pitchers, said he won't predict how many games he will win but quickly added:

"I sure would like to win at least 20. And with the kind of support I've been getting, I hope to do just that."

He leafed through his notebook and came up with this: Earl Willet and Carl Waugh had four carp that weighed from 8 to 10 pounds each and Willet had an 18-inch large mouth bass that tipped the scales at 3 pounds and 4 ounces. He grinned and kept their secret about the place, but did say "they caught them in lower Paint Creek and did not deny that it was somewhere between Rock Mills and Ghorntley's Crossing."

Krupla said the fishing hereabouts had improved at least 75 percent recently and pointed out that the creeks of the county "just about normal" for this time of year, bankful and water clear.

Every fisherman, he said, knows what a rain and muddy water will do to fishing in streams.

John Blanchard and Jim O'Reilly, who were in spring training with the New York Yankees, are with Birmingham, Ala., of the Southern Assn.

Last Little League Tryouts Set Friday

The boys who didn't try out for the Little League during Wednesday evening's practice session still have a chance to make the major league, Commissioner Max Lawrence announced Thursday.

But Friday will be their last chance, he said. The final tryout for the majors will be held at the Little League park on Oakland Avenue at 6 P. M. Friday.

The boys who haven't already tried out can show up then and might still make the majors, Lawrence said. But after that, tryouts will be strictly for the minor leagues.

Lawrence issued a special call to all Little League managers, minors and majors both, to show up for Friday's tryouts.

Pacific Coast Conference Ends Session

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The annual spring meeting of the Pacific Coast Conference has ended but the stormy struggle in the field of athletics is far from over.

This may be spring but the song of the birds gave way yesterday to rumbles and grumbles and at least one piercing blow of a whistle that echoed from here to far off Victoria, B. C., where the PCC held its sessions.

Developments included the possibility that the conference would hold a special meeting to consider charges that a "secret booster group" handed out 71,235 to more than 60 athletes at the University of Southern California over a two-year period.

Gov. Knight of California recommended that the board of regents look into the general situation, notably the three-year suspension, heavy fine and loss of a year's eligibility for athletes in the punishment voted for the University of California at Los Angeles. The American Civil Liberties Union urged the conference to reconsider its action against Bruin football players. The players face loss of a year eligibility unless they can prove themselves innocent of receiving money in excess of the $75 a month allowed by the conference for campus jobs.

Fullmer Favored To Trip Humez

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Humez, France's European middleweight champion, meets rugged Gene (Cyclone) Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in an important 1-round bout at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. The winner may get the next title shot at champion Ray Robinson.

The Frenchman's record is 83-5-1 with 41 knockouts.

Fullmer, winner of his last three over Rocky Castellani, Gil Turner and Jones, has a 35-3 record, including 19 kayos.

At the moment, Fullmer is a 7.5 favorite. The odds may change by fight time.

Mrs. Wayne Shobe Takes Golf Honors

Mrs. Wayne Shobe turned in a 55, her low for the young season, and took the low score prize at Wednesday's ladies day golfing at the Country Club here.

But Mrs. Marvin Roszmann took the blind bogey and Mrs. Ed Vollette the low net score with a 44.

Mrs. Charles Buxton and Mrs. Shobe tied for putting honors with 14 apiece and Mrs. Roszmann was close behind with 15.

Despite the chilly wind, a dozen women teed off for this third ladies day of the fairway sport.

Net scores (actual scores minus the handicaps) for the day were Mrs. Robert Hagerty 58, Mrs. Charles Griffiths 53, Mrs. Paul Pennington 51, Mrs. Ralph Bray 52, Mrs. Scott Harner 49, Mrs. William Junk 46, Mrs. Willa M. Weade 52, Mrs. Roger Littleton 46, Mrs. Jess Carter 49 and Mrs. James Martin 45.

Hogan Is Favored In Dallas Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—A field comparable to that of the National Open moved out today in the first round of the $30,000 Dallas Centennial Golf Tournament with Ben Hogan most prominently mentioned among a score of favorites.

Hogan said he's playing this tournament and next week's $7,000 Texas International Open here to tune up his game for a try at a fifth National Open championship. Only Sam Snead of the big name players is missing and Snead will be here next week for the Texas International.

Red Rolfe, Dartmouth's athletic director and a former Yankee third baseman, led the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League in stolen bases with 11 in 1951. He played for Dartmouth.

When it purrs, you reign

YOU CAN hardly hear its whispered might—but man, you sure can feel it.

It's power almost without limit—power that humbles the hills, melts the miles, makes you monarch of all you survey.

For this is a new Buick—a '56 Buick—sparked by the most potent engine in Buick annals—a 322-cubic-inch V8 with a record high compression of 9.5 to 1.

But what makes you feel even more like bossman of the highway is the great new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

First time you tickle the gas pedal you'll know what we mean.

Now—smack in the top inch of gas pedal travel—right where you save gas every turn of the wheels—you get a swift, sure and supremely positive new getaway response.

For smooth and nimble performance—for sheer mastery in traffic—nothing like it ever was.

And that's just part of it. When you need a still greater flow of get-up-and-go for safety's sake, you merely switch the pitch and you zoom out of tight spots.

So come rule the roost in this '56 Buick.

Come drive a car with 127 gorgeous inches of wheelbase to give it regal room and a ride that's fit for a king.

Try out Buick's new steering—new center-

grooved brakes—new direct-acting shock absorbers with triple the former volume of jounce-cushioning oil.

Learn how it feels to boss a car that looks like royalty and acts the part to perfection.

We promise—you'll practically purr with delight at the wheel of this dazzler—especially when you discover how easily you can make it your own.

What do you say—shall we expect you today?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

FRIDAY MAY 25

Bible School Set For McNair

"Living Bible", Theme For Summer Session

Final plans are taking shape today for the annual Vacation Bible School of the McNair Memorial Church here, set to be held this year from June 4 to June 15.

All youngsters from three up to 14 or 15 years old will be welcome at this year's school, Mrs. Charles Wood, school director, announced.

Daily sessions of the school will be held from 1 to 3 P. M. Monday through Friday, Mrs. Wood said. Program will include craftwork, Bible study, story-reading and music work. Mrs. Wood observed, Theme of this year's school, she said, is "The Living Bible."

Assisting Mrs. Wood in the direction of the school is Mrs. Russell Miller, director of last year's school. Mrs. Paul Elliott will be the music director. Mrs. Elliott is married to Dr. Paul Elliott, minister of the McNair Church.

TURNOUT for the school has not yet been estimated, though leaders are planning for groups the size of last year's, which averaged about 100 youngsters per day. It was emphasized that all youngsters will be accepted, regardless of whether they belong to the McNair Church.

Conducting the nursery department, which will include all children who won't be old enough for school next fall, is Mrs. Marvin Waddie. Assisting her are Miss Joyce Warnecke and Miss Donna Burke.

The beginner's group, made up of youngsters who will be going into the first and second grades next fall, will be conducted by Mrs. Richard Kelley, with the assistance of Mrs. James Nolan and Mrs. Robert Hyer.

Mrs. Ivan Kelly will conduct a primary group, which will be made up of all children going into the third and fourth grades next fall. Assisting her will be Miss Kay Rhoades and Mrs. George Kuhlwein.

A junior department, for youngsters going into the fifth and sixth grades, will be conducted by Mrs. Bryan Leasure with the aid of Mrs. Bill Carson and Mrs. Virgil Wright. All boys and girls older than this will be accepted for a teen group, to be conducted by Mrs. Joan Warnecke, with the assistance of Mrs. Edwin Thompson.

Final Tributes Paid Miss Lora Fortune

Final tributes were paid to Miss Lora Fortune at funeral services held for her at the Gerstner Funeral Home at 2 P. M. Wednesday.

Rev. Francis T. McCarty of Columbus, a former pastor of the First Baptist Church here, paid a personal tribute to Mrs. Fortune and offered the closing prayer. Rev. Norman Renn, the present pastor of the Baptist Church here, read the Scriptures and the two hymns, "Sunrise" and "Abide with Me" and offered the closing prayer.

The pallbearers, who also took care of the floral remembrances were M. A. Rife, Delbert Kimmer, Harold McLean, Sage Whitmore, Richard McLean and Madie Whitmore.

Interment was in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Two Picked Up Here For Drunk Driving

Hearings for the two drivers arrested in the county Wednesday on charges of driving while drunk will be held in municipal court.

William Maynard, South Charleston, was picked up by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson and listed for driving while drunk and driving while his license was revoked in a previous appearance in court here.

The other driver was Richard Lee Lilves, Wabash, Ind., who was arrested by Highway Patrolman R. W. Hackmeyer. He was also charged with driving while drunk, driving without a driver's license and for reckless operation.

Oliver Lewis Brookman, Hillsboro, was arrested for driving 60 miles an hour on Leesburg Avenue.

A charge of disorderly conduct filed against William Alltop, was dismissed by Judge Max G. Dice. In a previous news report it was erroneously stated that Alltop had been fined $5 and costs.

City School Board

(Continued from page 1) the County School Board, W. J. Hilty, and that he "failed to perform the duties imposed by section 3311-30 of the Revised Code within the time provided by law."

(No such Citizens Committee has been formed. In 1954, a Citizens Committee was formed; this is the committee that recommended the consolidation of eight township districts that went to make up the new Miami Trace district.)

THE COMMITTEE formed in 1954, the petitions contend, went out of existence when the law under which it was formed was amended to include participation of all districts affected. This would have included the Washington C. H. district, they say.

Because the Citizens Committee, requested by the Nov. 4, 1953, petition was not formed before the Bloomington, Jefferson and Paint (Bookwalter) districts were transferred to the Miami Trace district, the petitioners contend the transfer was illegal.

They also contend that the action of the County Board "attempting and purporting to transfer" these districts to the Miami Trace district "acted contrary to the will of the electorate."

THE DEFENDANTS are all six of the school boards in the county as they existed November 26, 1955, together with present members, former members who were on the boards last November and the boards' clerks.

The six boards of education which existed on that date were the Fayette County, Miami Trace, Bloomington, Paint, Jefferson and Washington C. H. boards.

The members, former members and clerks listed in the petition: Fayette County Board—H. B. Lightle, Hugh B. Sollars, Carroll Ritenour, Cloyd C. Craig, Nathaniel Tway and W. H. Hilty (clerk); Miami Trace Local Board—Taylor Groff, Robert L. Owens, Gordon Cowdery, Herbert Perrill, Richard Snyder (present members), Herbert Hoppes, Kenneth Bush, Joseph Campbell, John W. Short Session Held by Council

Executive Session After Adjournment

Little business was transacted during the regular session of Council, but a rather lengthy executive session behind closed doors followed adjournment.

The main ordinance adopted was one to participate with the state in the resurfacing of Lewis Street from Gregg Street north to the corporation line by paying 10 percent of the estimated cost of $1,540. The paving is to be done within the next few months. This is calculated to place the street in excellent condition for many years.

The $154 cost to the city will be taken from the maintenance and repair fund.

Another ordinance was adopted and prohibits the burning of garbage within the city, except in coal heating units in residences or a gas heated incinerator. Fine of $10 to $50 is provided for violating the ordinance.

A third ordinance carried appropriations of $300 to help complete the toilet facilities in the city park, and $350 for equipment for the city auditor's office.

A petition was presented by Ralph Penn for blacktopping the alley from the intersection of Washington Avenue - Court Street junction to East Street.

The reason given was that the alley, originally paved with concrete and later patched when it started to disintegrate in spots, and as a result of the patch, dust resulted. The alley is heavily traveled, it was explained.

City Manager James F. Parkinson stated that the alley had been swept recently to remove the dust.

President Ronald Cornwell announced that the alley would be given consideration when the street improvement schedule is made up.

Trox Farrell, Clinton Avenue, was present to extend thanks and appreciation to Council for abolishing parking on the north side of Clinton Avenue along several properties including his own.

He reported that a great deal of the confusion and noise previously occurring as result of the nearby restaurant, had been abolished.

Rose Avenue Scouts Tour Greenhouse

Members of the Rose Avenue School Girl Scout troop toured Buck's Greenhouse here as a part of their regular meeting Thursday.

The girls got a look at almost all of the flowers on stock at the shop, and were given an idea of how a florist's operation is run.

Girls on the tour were Shirley Crawford, Pamela Graves, Charlotte Goolsby, Susan Hamilton, Gale Kiffe, Judy Lower, Linda Jean Pearson, Sharon Pendergraft, Hazel Rayburn and Judy Hatfield.

Leading the group was Mrs. Ed Kiffe, the troop adviser.

At the same meeting, girls worked on the knapsacks that they are making and held an extended business meeting. Games closed the session.

Gregg St. Church Plans Rally Day

This Sunday will be Rally Day at the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union.

A feature of the all-day service will be the singing of the Trace Family Trio, a vocal group from near Lucasville. The Traces sang at the church last February.

The trio will sing at each of the four services scheduled for Rally Day, according to Rev. Charles Ware, pastor of the church.

First of the day's services will be the Sunday school session at 9:30 A. M. Robert Harper is superintendent of the Sunday school.

Regular morning worship services will be held at 10:45 A. M. At 2 P. M., the trio will sing in another service, not at the church, and will return to the church for the Sunday evening evangelistic service.

The services are open to all. Rev. Ware said.

Mrs. Charles Upp Called By Death

Mrs. Louise Clark Upp, 70, died Thursday morning at the Hurles Rest Home here, where she had been a patient for two weeks.

She had been a resident of Jeffersonville since she and her husband, Charles B. Upp, moved here from their native Hillsboro 22 years ago. She was a member of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a son, Harold of Columbus; daughter, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bowers of Fairborn, and 11 grandchildren.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Stein of Akron, and three brothers, William, Daniel and Joseph, all of Hillsboro.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by the Morrow Funeral Home, where services will be held. Burial will be in Jeffersonville Fairview Cemetery.

Israel F. Decker Dies Near Here

Israel F. Decker, 82, died at 7:30 P. M. Wednesday at the home of his niece, Mrs. Charles Butler of the Palmer Road. He had been critically ill since Sunday.

Mr. Decker was a native of Pike County and had lived there most of his life until moving to his niece's home ten months ago.

In addition to his niece, he leaves a brother, Joseph Decker of Jamestown.

The time has not been set for the funeral services, which will be at the Christian Union Church in Latham, Pike County. Burial in the East Cemetery near Latham will be under the direction of the Howe Funeral Home of Piketon.

Bible School Set For McNair

"Living Bible" Theme For Summer Session

Final plans are taking shape today for the annual Vacation Bible School of the McNair Memorial Church here, set to be held this year from June 4 to June 15.

All youngsters from three up to 14 or 15 years old will be welcome at this year's school, Mrs. Charles Wood, school director, announced.

Daily sessions of the school will be held from 1 to 3 P. M. Monday through Friday, Mrs. Wood said. Program will include craftwork, Bible study, story-reading and music work, Mrs. Wood observed. Theme of this year's school, she said, is "The Living Bible."

Assisting Mrs. Wood in the direction of the school is Mrs. Russell Miller, director of last year's school. Mrs. Paul Elliott will be the music director. Mrs. Elliott is married to Dr. Paul Elliott, minister of the McNair Church.

TURNOUT for the school has not yet been estimated, though leaders are planning for groups the size of last year's, which averaged about 100 youngsters per day. It was emphasized that all youngsters will be accepted, regardless of whether they belong to the McNair Church.

Conducting the nursery department, which will include all children who won't be old enough for school next fall, is Mrs. Marvin Waddle. Assisting her are Miss Joyce Warnecke and Miss Donna Burke.

The beginner's group, made up of youngsters who will be going into the first and second grades next fall, will be conducted by Mrs. Richard Kelley, with the assistance of Mrs. James Nilan and Mrs. Robert Hyer.

Mrs. Ivan Kelley will conduct a primary group, which will be made up of all children going into the third and fourth grades next fall. Assisting her will be Miss Kay Rhoades and Mrs. George Kuhlwein.

A junior department, for youngsters going into the fifth and sixth grades, will be conducted by Mrs. Bryan Leasure with the aid of Mrs. Bill Carson and Mrs. Virgil Wright. All boys and girls older than this will be accepted for a teen group, to be conducted by Mrs. John Warnecke, with the assistance of Mrs. Edwin Thompson.
